

PAPA JOHN'S®

Better Ingredients. Better Pizza.

PIE INVESTMENTS LLC EMPLOYEE MANUAL

A FRANCHISEE OF PAPA JOHN'S INTERNATIONAL, INC.

Table of Content
Welcome to Papa Johns	1
Code of Ethics and Business Conduct	3
Handbook Introduction	6
Arbitration	15
Compensation, Timekeeping & Payroll	16
Employment with Us	27
Team Member Benefits	36
Workplace Policies	39
Employee Conduct & Disciplinary Action	50
State Addenda	62
Handbook Acknowledgment	63
Arbitration Agreement Acknowledgment	64

Welcome to Papa Johns

On behalf of your colleagues, I'd like to welcome you to Company ("Papa Johns" or "Company") and wish you great success here. We believe that each member of the team contributes directly to the growth and success of Papa Johns, and we hope you will take pride in being part of our team. We recognize that our most valuable assets are the associates that work here. We strive to create a positive work environment that challenges and excites everyone. We believe everyone should be treated, and treat each other, with dignity and respect always. Throughout this Employee Handbook, we will refer to Pie Investments LLC as "the Company".

The Company owns and operates Papa John's® stores as a franchisee of Papa John's in the state of Pennsylvania, New Jersey, Delaware, Maryland and Virginia. The Company has shop employees, field employees and support staff in this market, as well as support staff in offices in Pennsylvania. Most of the policies and procedures in this Employee Handbook apply to all employees, but certain terms of employment may vary depending on the state you work in or whether you are field based or in the corporate office.

It is our philosophy and practice to provide our customers with high-quality products and services and World Class Customer Service. Only qualified, dedicated employees can assist in the Company achieving our goals. To continue our success, Papa John's must have a team composed of people who are dedicated, loyal and willing to put their best efforts forward daily.

This Employee Handbook summarizes most of the policies and practices that will directly affect you and explains what is expected of a member of our organization. Please familiarize yourself with the contents of the Handbook as soon as possible as it will answer many questions about employment with Papa John's. Also note that the provisions stated in this Handbook are guidelines only and are subject to change from time to time, at the discretion of PJ. Except for the section of the Handbook entitled All Persons Employed by Papa Johns, and the Handbook is not a contract of employment.

From time to time, the information included in our Employee Handbook may change. The Company will inform you of these changes as they occur. As we grow, we hope that you choose to grow with us. The opportunities are almost limitless.

Welcome aboard and best wishes for success!

Notice: Please read carefully

This material defines your rights and limits our responsibilities. This Employee Handbook has been issued to familiarize you with basic Company policies and working conditions as of the date of issue. It is not meant to cover these matters in detail or to include all of the Company policies and working conditions. Since such procedures are constantly changing as the business evolves, it must be understood that these procedures or policies may change, as business needs dictate and that this handbook may not include a summary of all procedures.

The Company operates Papa John's Franchised Locations in the state of Pennsylvania and New Jersey recognizes that from time to time the laws applicable to employment in its jurisdictions may vary. It is the intent of the Company to comply with the laws of the appropriate jurisdiction and to the extent that any provision of this handbook is inconsistent with the applicable law, the Company intends that the local laws be followed.

We reserve the right to respond to specific situations in whatever manner we believe best suits the needs of the Company and the employee(s) involved. Where there are differences between the provisions of this manual and other documents which set forth our policies in greater detail or more specifically (such as in our insurance policies), the provisions of the more detailed, specific documents shall control. Nothing in this handbook is intended to create an express or implied contract of employment. The Company does not recognize any contract of employment unless it is reduced to writing and signed by the Chief Executive Officer of the Company. We adhere to the principle of employment-at-will (see Disclaimer of At-Will Employment and Non-Contract), which allows either party to terminate the employment relationship at any time for any reason not prohibited by law.

While we do not intend to change the policies and procedures contained in this handbook without good reason, the Company reserves the right to change or modify any of its policies or procedures or its conditions of employment in whatever manner we believe to be appropriate based on changes in the law, evolving business conditions, market factors influencing the Company, or other relevant factors. The Company endeavors to notify employees when such changes take place.

Code of Ethics and Business Conduct

Pie Investments (the “Company”) is committed to conducting business with honesty, fairness, and integrity in all areas of our operations. This policy applies to all team members employed by Pie Investments Management LLC, Pie Investments DC LLC, Pie Investments Maryland LLC, and Pie Investments Baltimore LLC. The Code of Ethics and Business Conduct (“the Code”) establishes clear expectations for ethical behavior, accountability, and professionalism throughout our organization.

Core Principles

All employees are expected to uphold the following standards as part of their daily conduct and decision-making:

- Act with honesty and fairness in all dealings with customers, coworkers, suppliers, and members of the community.
- Comply with all federal, state, and local laws, as well as Company policies and procedures at all times.
- Avoid conflicts of interest or situations that could appear to compromise impartial judgment.
- Protect and properly use Company assets—including property, equipment, funds, information, and time—for legitimate business purposes only.
- Safeguard confidential and proprietary information belonging to the Company, our customers, or our vendors, and never disclose or use such information for personal benefit.
- Maintain accurate records and report information truthfully; falsifying documents or misrepresenting facts is strictly prohibited.
- Demonstrate respect and professionalism in every interaction and maintain a workplace free of harassment, intimidation, or discrimination.

Conflicts of Interest

A conflict of interest occurs when an employee’s personal interests interfere—or appear to interfere—with the interests of the Company. Employees are expected to avoid circumstances where personal relationships, financial interests, or outside employment might compromise their objectivity, loyalty, or performance.

- Examples of potential conflicts include:
- Holding a financial interest in a competitor or supplier.
- Accepting excessive gifts, favors, or hospitality from vendors or customers.
- Engaging in outside employment that competes with or impairs performance for Pie Investments.

Employees must disclose any potential or perceived conflicts of interest to their supervisor, District Manager, or Human Resources immediately. The Company will review and address each disclosure to ensure compliance with this policy.

Use of Company Assets

Company assets—including vehicles, computer systems, telephones, and funds—must be used solely for legitimate business purposes. Limited personal use may be permitted only when it does not interfere with work responsibilities or violate any Company policy.

Confidential and Proprietary Information

Confidential information includes, but is not limited to, business plans, pricing strategies, financial data, customer and supplier lists, payroll information, and marketing strategies. Employees are required to maintain confidentiality and may not disclose, duplicate, or use such information for personal benefit, either during or after employment. All records containing confidential information remain the exclusive property of the Company.

Compliance with Laws and Regulations

Employees must comply with all applicable laws, regulations, and Company policies governing their employment, including wage and hour laws, safety requirements, data privacy, anti-corruption, and equal employment opportunity statutes. Employees must cooperate fully with lawful investigations, audits, or inquiries conducted by internal or external authorities.

Reporting Concerns and Seeking Guidance

The Company encourages open communication and expects employees to report concerns regarding unethical conduct, policy violations, or suspected legal infractions. Employees may report concerns to:

- Their immediate supervisor or District Manager;
- Human Resources at 215-550-1078 or hr@pieinv.com; or
- The Pie Investments Ethics Hotline at 215-550-1078 for confidential or anonymous reporting.

The Company strictly prohibits retaliation against any individual who makes a report in good faith or participates in an investigation. Any act of retaliation will result in disciplinary action, up to and including termination of employment.

Accountability

Violations of this Code or related policies may result in corrective or disciplinary action, up to and including termination of employment, and may also result in civil or criminal penalties when applicable.

All employees are required to acknowledge receipt of and compliance with this Code as a condition of employment.

Confidentiality

Employee shall not, nor shall any corporation, partnership, or other business entity or person owned or controlled by Employee, directly or indirectly, at any time during or after Employee's employment by the Company, disclose or make accessible to anyone, use, or retain in writing or any other medium, without the express prior written authorization of the Company, any Confidential or Proprietary Information. Employee's confidentiality/non-disclosure obligation includes all social media, news media, and all third parties, and the Employee is hereby prohibited and shall not disclose or divulge or post or give any statements on any social media platform, news media platform, or to any third party, regarding any Confidential or Proprietary Information or any other information of or relating to the Company and its affiliates, without the express written consent of the Company. For the avoidance of doubt, the Employee shall not provide testimony or assistance to any third party in any litigation matter or otherwise provide sworn testimony regarding Confidential or Proprietary Information without a court order. Any breach of Employee's confidentiality/non-disclosure obligation will result in the Employee's termination, if employed by the Company at the time of the breach, and the Employee shall become liable to the Company for any resulting damages. Employee hereby acknowledges that the Confidential or Proprietary Information is the property of the Company and that Employee shall not duplicate or make use of any such Confidential or Proprietary Information other than in the proper scope of employment and work hereunder, and that, upon termination of employment for any reason, Employee shall deliver to the Company, without further demand, all copies thereof, in any medium whatsoever, which are then in Employee's possession. For purposes of this Agreement, Confidential or Proprietary Information shall mean all types of proprietary data, trade secrets and confidential information of the Company, or any of its affiliates, which is not legitimately in the public domain, including, but not limited to, all pricing or business strategies, compensation or financial information, customer lists, customer files, personnel lists, personnel files, drawings, plans, price lists, contracts and other books, records or files relating to the Company, or that of any of its affiliates.

Handbook Introduction

Introduction

This Handbook is designed to give you information about Pie Investments, including some of our policies and general expectations. The information in this Handbook will be of great value to you, especially, during your first days of employment, as well as a future reference guide. You must read it thoroughly and check with your manager or the Human Resources Department if you have any questions or require clarification on any information contained in this Handbook.

About this Employee Handbook

The Company may alter, cancel or add regulations, personnel policies, or procedures, from time to time in the interest of the welfare and safety of its employees and the improvement of its operations, at its discretion without advance notice, except with respect to the section entitled "ALL PERSONS EMPLOYED BY PIE INVESTMENTS".

Recognition of these rights and prerogatives of the Company is a term and condition of employment and of continued employment. Important Notice: This Handbook does not constitute an employment contract or other contract of any kind. This Handbook does not limit any rights Pie Investments LLC may have nor does it create any contractual or other rights of any employee or other person.

At-Will Employment

Your employment with Pie Investments LLC., unless the subject of a specific written formal agreement to the contrary, is an employment "at will" and may be terminated by either the employee or the Company at any time without notice or for any reason. No commitment or other term of employment shall be inferred or otherwise assumed from any source whatsoever, written or oral, except as provided for above. Employment for any specified duration, shall not be valid or binding on the employee or the Company unless it is expressly set forth in a written document and signed by the employee and by the chief executive officer of the Company.

No one can change any policy, program, and/or guideline orally. Any oral statements, promises, or assurance to the contrary are not binding on the Company and should not be relied upon by the employee or job applicant. The employer is not responsible for, and will not be bound by, any statements that are not reaffirmed in writing by an appropriate Company Executive. Statements on the Employment Application, in this Handbook, training manuals, or other documents, including statements made in the course of performance evaluations and reviews, do not constitute, and should not be relied upon by the employee or job applicant under any circumstance, as assuring continued employment or superseding the "at will" employment policy.

Management will issue policies and procedures from time to time which are not covered in this Handbook. These notices shall be strictly followed until they are withdrawn or superseded. Bulletin boards (electronic and physical) are used as one method of communicating some of our rules and regulations. It is imperative that you do not alter, deface, or remove any rule or regulation from our bulletin boards unless specifically authorized to do so by management. It is the responsibility of every employee to regularly read bulletin board notices. Additional information may be made available via email, intranet, and handouts.

Non-Harassment policy.

Every organization must establish certain rules and regulations. Pie Investments LLC has instituted a “Zero Tolerance” posture, rules, regulations and policies and procedures to safeguard the interest and safety of all employees. For example, it is the policy of Pie Investments LLC to maintain effective, compliant and safe workplace conditions and maintain corporate social responsibility. If it becomes necessary to correct deficiencies, whether in job performance, misconduct or otherwise, through corrective action, up to and including termination of employment, such measures will be constructively and effectively applied as determined by the Company.

The following infractions are some, but not all, of the rules and regulations, violation of which may result in corrective action, up to and including termination of employment.

- Harassment in violation of the Company’s Non-Harassment policy.
- Fighting (verbal or physical), provoking a fight, workplace violence, horseplay, or gambling on Company premises.
- The theft of Company property or the property of other Company employees, customers or suppliers, or selling Company products and/or property for personal/business profit.
- Insubordination, inclusive of not following Company rules/policies and the refusal to perform work as directed by management unless such orders jeopardize an employee's safety or health.
- Deliberate destruction or defacing of Company property, another employee's property, or that of any other person in connection with employment with Company, or damage through abuse, indifference, neglect or carelessness.
- Abusive or profane use of Company E-mail, Internet, or any electronic communications inclusive of phones, mail, faxes machines.
- Leaving the Company premises or workstation during working time without permission.
- Excessive absenteeism or lateness or patterns of absence or lateness.
- Use of profanity of any kind towards another employee at any level
- Falsifying Company records or reports, inclusive of employee time/attendance
- records of the employee himself/herself or those of another employee, including but not limited to punching in/out another employee's time, or allowing another employee to punch your time in/out.
- Failure to report absence(s) on a daily/ongoing basis.`
- Smoking in Non-Smoking Areas or numerous and/or extensive smoking breaks.
- Intoxication, sale or the bringing of any alcoholic beverages or narcotics onto Company grounds.
- Breach of any applicable non-disclosure/non-competition requirements.
- Reporting for work or performing your work duties at any time, on or off the Company premises, while impaired by illegal or legal drugs or alcohol, including prescribed medications.
- Failure to keep Company credit card paid on a timely basis.
- Willfully and knowingly violating any of the Company’s rules and/or policies, as noted in this Handbook or otherwise.
- Disregard for safety rules or common safety practices, including but not limited to careless action that endangers the life or safety of another person.
- Unauthorized possession of dangerous or illegal firearms, drugs, liquids, weapons or explosives on Company property or while on Company business.
- Engaging in any act of sabotage willfully or negligently causing the destruction or damage of Company property or the property of Company employees, customers, suppliers or visitors in any manner.

The above rules do not attempt to cover all situations that might arise. The listing of the above primary violations does not preclude the Company from taking corrective action or discharge action in its discretion for violation of any of the regulations contained herein or other regulations which are made locally in accordance with local conditions. Multiple infractions of minor regulations or disregard of warnings or instructions may also lead to discharge from employment at the discretion of the Company

Personal Property

It is the Company's policy to always preserve the security of our operations and the health and safety of our employees. However, all employees are expected to exercise reasonable care to safeguard their own personal items of value brought to the workplace. Pie Investments LLC does not assume responsibility for the damage, loss, or theft of personal belongings. Employees are advised not to carry large or unnecessary amounts of cash or other valuables with them when in the workplace.

Non-Harassment Policy

Harassment in the workplace or on Company business is strictly prohibited by the Company. Pie Investments LLC is committed to ensuring that all employees are treated with dignity and respect and without harassment. Discriminatory or harassing conduct because of race, gender, national origin, creed, color, religion, age, disability, predisposing genetic characteristics, veteran status, military status, marital status, parental status, sexual orientation, domestic violence victim status or any other basis prohibited by applicable law violate our policy and will result in corrective action, up to and including termination of employment. We believe that treating each other with dignity and respect is the only way to maintain a productive and respectful work environment at the company.

With respect to the matter of sexual harassment, the purpose of this policy is not to regulate our employee's personal morality out of the workplace or while not on Company business. Rather, it is to ensure that in the workplace, during business hours or otherwise, or elsewhere on Company business, no employee harasses another employee, applicant for employment, or any other person. While it is not always easy to define precisely what sexual harassment is, it certainly includes, but is not limited to, unwelcome sexual advances, requests for sexual favors, and all other verbal or physical contact of a sexual nature in situations where: (i) submission to such conduct is an explicit or implicit term or condition of employment; (ii) an individual's submission to or rejection of such conduct becomes the basis for employment decisions affecting that individual; or (iii) conduct which has the purpose or effect of creating an intimidating, hostile or offensive working environment. Therefore, sexual harassment includes, but is not limited to, sexually related comments or jokes, endearing words, being whistled at, improper banter and/or conduct that creates an uncomfortable or hostile work environment.

Any employee who feels that she or he has been subjected to, or witnessed, discrimination or harassment should immediately report the matter to his or her manager, any other member of management, and/or the Human Resources Department, whoever is appropriate under the circumstances. All reports of discrimination or harassment will be handled in a timely and discrete manner.

Equal Employment Opportunity Policy

Pie Investments LLC provides Equal Employment Opportunity (EEO) to all employees and applicants for employment. Employment decisions are made based on non-discriminatory factors such as the manner in which each individual's skills and qualifications meet the responsibilities of the position for which they have applied and the needs of the business. Employment decisions regarding employees and applicants for employment are made without regard to race, gender, national origin, creed, color, religion, age, disability, predisposing genetic characteristics, veteran status, military status, marital status, parental status, sexual orientation, domestic violence victim status or any other basis prohibited by applicable law. Discrimination and/or harassment based on any of those factors are totally inconsistent with Pie Investments philosophy of doing business and will not be tolerated at any time.

Equal Employment Opportunity for Individuals with Disabilities

It is the policy of Pie Investments LLC to provide equal employment opportunities for individuals with disabilities, and not to discriminate on the basis of disability against any employee or applicant for employment. As part of this commitment, Pie Investments LLC provides reasonable accommodations to employees and applicants for employment who are individuals with disabilities who are otherwise qualified, to the extent that such accommodations do not create an undue hardship for Pie Investments LLC.

Protected Health Information

Pie Investments LLC respects your privacy and the confidential nature of the information we gather during our employment relationship. The Company is committed to maintaining and protecting the confidentiality of our employee's personal and sensitive information. In an effort to comply with the Health Insurability Portability and Accountability Act (HIPAA) and the resulting Privacy Rule, companies recognize certain responsibilities with respect to employees' PHI or Protected Health Information.

Employees have the right to know how the Company may use or disclose protected health information, although there are certain uses and disclosures that may be made without the employee's permission, such as those that are needed to carry out payment functions or operations relating to the benefit plan. The Company ensures that the information it discloses is the "minimum necessary" to carry out the purpose for which it was intended.

Americans with Disabilities Act

The Company is committed to complying with the law protecting qualified individuals with disabilities. The Company complies fully with the Americans with Disabilities Act, as well as state laws, which require that the Employer make reasonable accommodations for disabled individuals in our workplace. We are committed to treating physically or mentally disabled individuals without discrimination in any area of work, including pre-employment, application, hiring, supervision and evaluation, provided the requested accommodation does not create an undue hardship for the Company and/or does not pose a direct threat to the health or safety of others in the workplace and/or to the individual. The Company treats all medical information and records concerning disabilities as strictly confidential. Any employee of the Company involved in discriminatory practices is subject to disciplinary action, up to and including termination.

Immigration Reform Law

The Immigration Reform and Control Act of 1986 seek to preserve jobs for American citizens and aliens who are authorized to work in the United States. Pie Investments is required by law to ensure that every new employee provides proof of identity and employment eligibility upon hire. Each new employee completes an Employment Eligibility Verification form (I-9) within three days of the date of hire, along with providing documentation as outlined on the I-9 form, which will establish identity and employment eligibility. If an employee is unable to present the required document(s) within three (3) business days from date of employment, the employee must produce a receipt for a replacement of a lost, stolen or damaged document(s) showing that he/she has applied for the document(s). If an employee does not comply with the above time frames, the employee will be separated from employment with the Company. Potential employees are informed of this at time of the employment offer.

Employees are required to provide updated documentation on employment eligibility on or before the expiration date, i.e. government issued work authorization. In addition, employees must contact proper authorities directly to resolve any discrepancies about eligibility documents.

Non-Disclosure/Non-Compete Agreement

Your employment with the Company is based on trust and confidence. Pie Investments LLC requires your best efforts and utmost diligence to protect and keep the trade secrets and proprietary business information of the Company, as defined in the Non-Disclosure/Non-Compete Agreement that you executed as a condition of your employment and continued employment with Pie Investments LLC. Unless required by the Company in connection with your employment or with the Company's express written consent, you as an employee will not, either during your employment or afterwards, directly or indirectly, use or disclose, for your own benefit or the benefit of another, any of the Company's trade secrets or confidential or proprietary information, whether or not the information is acquired, learned, attained, or developed by you alone or in conjunction with others.

The Company must maintain customer and vendor relationships and personnel stability. The Following restrictive covenants are designed to support these goals in a reasonable and fair manner and are accepted by Employee in consideration of the Company's offer of employment and this Agreement, which Employee acknowledges constitute fair and adequate consideration for such restrictive covenants.

Non-Interference/Solicitation

Employee agrees that for the Restricted Period, neither Employee nor any corporation, partnership, or other business entity or person owned or controlled, directly or indirectly, by Employee, or in which Employee has authority to recommend such action, shall engage or participate in any effort to solicit or act to induce or encourage in any way any of the Company's customers, employees, vendors, providers, contractors or associates to terminate his or her relationship with the Company and/or affiliate himself or herself with any competing business entity.

Proprietary/Confidentiality Information and Nondisclosure

Employee acknowledges a duty of confidentiality owed to the Company. Employee shall not, nor shall any corporation, partnership, or other business entity or person owned or controlled by Employee, directly or indirectly, at any time during or after Employee's employment by the Company, disclose or make accessible to anyone, use, or retain in writing or any other medium, without the express prior written authorization of the Company, any Confidential or Proprietary Information. Employee's confidentiality/non-disclosure obligation includes all social media, news media, and all third parties, and the Employee is hereby prohibited and shall not disclose or divulge or post or give any statements on any social media platform, news media platform, or to any third party, regarding any Confidential or Proprietary Information or any other information of or relating to the Company and its affiliates, without the express written consent of the Company. For the avoidance of doubt, the Employee shall not provide testimony or assistance to any third party in any litigation matter or otherwise provide sworn testimony regarding Confidential or Proprietary Information without a court order. Any breach of Employee's confidentiality/non-disclosure obligation will result in the Employee's termination, if employed by the Company at the time of the breach, and the Employee shall become liable to the Company for any resulting damages.

Employee hereby acknowledges that the Confidential or Proprietary Information is the property of the Company and that Employee shall not duplicate or make use of any such Confidential or Proprietary Information other than in the proper scope of employment and work hereunder, and that, upon termination of employment for any reason, Employee shall deliver to the Company, without further demand, all copies thereof, in any medium whatsoever, which are then in Employee's possession. For purposes of this Agreement, Confidential or Proprietary Information shall mean all types of proprietary data, trade secrets and confidential information of the Company, or any of its affiliates, which is not legitimately in the public domain, including, but not limited to, all pricing or business strategies, compensation or financial information, customer lists, customer files, personnel lists, personnel files, drawings, plans, price lists, contracts and other books, records or files relating to the Company, or that of any of its affiliates.

Savings Clause

Both parties acknowledge that the provisions contained in this subparagraphs (a)-(c) are reasonable and necessary to protect the legitimate interests of the Company, that any breach of these provisions will result in irreparable harm to the Company and that the Company will be entitled to injunctive relief for any breach in addition to any other remedies that may be allowed by law. In the event that these restrictions are adjudged to be overbroad or not fully valid and enforceable, such restrictions shall be modified so as to make them fully valid and enforceable, consistent with the parties' intentions to provide the maximum protection permissible in law and equity. Employee hereby waives any objections on the grounds of improper jurisdiction or venue to the commencement of an action in the Courts of Common Pleas for Philadelphia and the surrounding counties or the United States District Court for the Eastern District of Pennsylvania. Employee expressly agrees that the Employee's obligations of subparagraphs (a)-(c) apply for the benefit of and may be enforced by the Company, its subsidiaries, affiliates, successors and assigns. To be clear, the Company may freely assign any or all of its rights under this Agreement.

Injunctive Relief

The Employee acknowledges that the Company has made certain valuable concessions to the Employee in connection with entering into this Agreement and that a violation on the Employee's part of any of the covenants contained in this Section would cause immeasurable and irreparable damage to the Company and that the recovery by the Company of money damages for such breach will not constitute an adequate remedy for such breach. Accordingly, at the Employee's sole cost and expense, the Company shall be entitled to injunctive relief in any court of competent jurisdiction for any actual or threatened violation of any such covenant in addition to any other remedies it may have, and that Employee expressly waives the defense in any equitable proceeding that there is an adequate remedy in law for any such breach. The Employee and the Company acknowledge that the covenants contained in this Section have been negotiated with the opportunity to obtain the advice of counsel. The Employee agrees that in the event that any arbitrator or court of competent jurisdiction shall finally hold that any provision this Section is void or constitutes an unreasonable restriction against the Employee, the provisions of this Section shall not be rendered void but shall apply to such extent as such arbitrator or court may determine constitutes a reasonable restriction under the circumstances. Any portion of this Section not required to be so modified shall remain in full force and effect and not be affected thereby. For the avoidance of doubt, the provisions of this Section shall survive termination of this Agreement.

“Person” defined. For the purpose of this Agreement, “Person” means any individual, corporation, partnership, limited liability company, joint venture, trust or unincorporated organization, or a government or any agency or political subdivision thereof.

Drug-Free Workplace Policy

At Pie Investments LLC, it is our intention to maintain a drug-free workplace and view the unlawful manufacture, distribution, dispensation, possession or use of controlled substances as unacceptable, which may result in corrective action, up to and including termination of employment. As such, we comply with the "Drug-Free Workplace Act of 1988".

No Smoking Policy

To provide a safe, healthy and clean work environment for all Company employees and visitors, and to comply with applicable state and local no- smoking laws, Pie Investments LLC maintains a "smoke-free workplace." We are committed to providing a safe, healthy and clean workplace for our employees. Therefore, smoking of any type, including the use of e-cigarettes, is prohibited within our building locations. Ashtrays have been provided outside in designated areas at the discretion of management. Employees are asked to utilize these and not allow the grounds to become untidy. Should the Company grounds become unsightly, the Company reserves the right to also make the “building grounds” a smoke-free area.

Company is committed to a safe, healthy, and productive work environment for its employees, free from the risks created by drug and alcohol use. Use of alcohol, drugs, and controlled substances impairs employee judgment, resulting in increased safety risks, injuries, and faulty decision-making and is thus prohibited.

Prohibited Activities – Alcohol

No employee, supervisor, or manager, shall knowingly permit any employee to: Use, sell, dispense, manufacture, distribute or possess alcohol on Company premises. This prohibition includes Company owned vehicles, personal vehicles being used for Company business or personal vehicles parked on Company property.

- Report to work or remain on duty while under the influence of alcohol.
- Consume alcohol within 8 hours of a work-related accident or injury (if required to be tested) or until testing is complete.

Prohibited Activities – Drugs & Controlled Substances

No employee, nor supervisors or managers having knowledge, shall permit any employee to:

- Use, sell, dispense, manufacture, distribute or possess any illegal drugs or controlled substances on Company premises. This prohibition includes Company owned vehicles, personal vehicles being used for Company business or personal vehicles parked on Company property.
- Report to work or remain on duty when under the influence of an illegal drug or controlled substance;
- Report to work or remain on duty after having tested positive for any illegal drugs or controlled substances;
- Use an illegal drug or controlled substance within 8 hours of a work-related accident or injury (if required to be tested) or until testing is complete.

The only exception to this policy is where an employee is using a controlled substance for medical purposes, in accordance with the instructions of the employee's treating health care provider. In this case, written documentation from the employee's treating health care provider must be submitted to the Company, and, the health care provider documents that the employee's use of the substance does not adversely affect the employee's ability to fulfill his/her duties. An employee MUST have a valid and current doctor's prescription and MUST be under the prescribing provider's care if taking any type of prescription medicine that can create an impairment.

- If you are taking any prescription or over-the-counter medication and are concerned that it may impair your ability to perform your duties, consult your Manager.
- If an employee tests positive on a test described below and cannot produce a prescription, a Medical Review Officer will report a positive result to the Company. Consequences for a positive test result will apply.

Required Drug and Alcohol Testing

As further discussed below, to promote a safe and productive workplace, Company may conduct the following types of Drug/Alcohol tests on employees: Reasonable Suspicion Testing; Post- Accident Testing and Return to Duty/Follow-up Testing.

Reasonable Suspicion Testing (paid for by the Company)

An employee will be asked to submit to alcohol or drug testing whenever there is reasonable suspicion that this policy has been violated. Reasonable suspicion testing may result from one of the following situations:

- Specific, personal and clearly definable observations/examples concerning the appearance, behavior, speech or performance of the employee; or Violation of a safety rule, or other unsafe work incident which, after further investigation of the employee's behavior, leads the supervisor(s) /manager(s) to believe that the employee's functioning is impaired; or
- Other physical, circumstantial, or other reliable indicators of impairment.
- Employees must immediately proceed to testing, upon request of the supervisor/manager. Employees may not operate machinery while impaired.

Post-Accident Testing

An employee may be required to submit to a drug and/or alcohol test after an on the job accident: On Company time; On Company property; Involving a death or injury requiring medical treatment; Where there is property damage at an estimated value of $50 or more; Involving a Company vehicle; Involving an employee's personal vehicle while on duty; Involving an injury that is reportable to worker's compensation; or If the employee requests medical attention.

An employee who is involved in an accident must immediately report the accident to his or her supervisor/manager. Whenever a supervisor/manager observes or is notified of an accident, the supervisor/manager will initiate drug and alcohol testing. The supervisor/manager will order the employee to submit to a urine and/or breath test. The supervisor/manager will arrange to transport the employee to the collection site and will arrange for the employee's transport home. The employee will continue in a paid status pending the receipt of drug testing results by Company.

Return to Duty/Follow-up Testing

If the Company elects to allow an employee to return to work following a positive test result, it is mandatory that the employee first pass a Return to Duty test. The employee may be required to subsequently submit to future unannounced (random) testing.

Refusal to Submit

Any refusal to submit to the testing outlined in this policy is in violation of Company policy and is subject to discipline up to and including termination. A refusal to submit is defined as follows: The failure to appear for any test within a reasonable period of time, as determined by the Company, after being directed to do so by the Company. The failure to remain at the testing site until the testing process is complete. The failure to provide a urine specimen for any controlled substance test.

The failure to cooperate with any part of the testing process or the obstruction of the testing process (e.g. the refusal to empty pockets when so directed by the collector, confrontational behavior that disrupts the collection process, the failure to follow instructions with respect to clothing and/or anything worn by the employee that may interfere with the collection process.)

Testing Procedures

The kinds of substances employees may be tested for include the following or their metabolites: Marijuana; Cocaine; Opiates; Phencyclidine (PCP); Amphetamines and methamphetamines; and Alcohol. All drug tests are performed by a government-certified outside laboratory. If there is a positive drug and/or alcohol result on the initial screening test, the laboratory or blood alcohol technician will automatically do a second test to confirm the results. A positive breath alcohol test may be confirmed by a second breath test.

The employee is prohibited from performing any duties if the initial test is positive, and while the confirmatory testing is being performed. The laboratory will contact the employee personally, in the case of a positive test result and will also share the results with the Company. An employee who does not pass a drug test may request that the original sample be analyzed again at the individual's expense by a government certified laboratory. All requests for an independent analysis must be made in writing within 72 hours of notification of a confirmed positive test result. Requests should be directed to Human Resources.

Each employee, upon his or her written request, may be provided with a written copy of the positive test result. Additionally, upon written request to Human Resources, within seven days of taking the test, an employee may request access to records relating to his drug and/or alcohol test.

Violence in the workplace/Zero Tolerance Policy

The Company does not tolerate any type of workplace violence (physical or verbal) committed by or against any employee(s) and/or the Company and its representatives. Employees are prohibited from making threats and engaging in violent abusive language, communication, and activities. Threats, threatening conduct or any other acts of violence in the workplace will not be tolerated at any time. Any threats, whether physical or verbal, made "in jest or anger" or otherwise, will be treated as an act of violence. Damage to the property of another employee or any other person, done "in jest or anger" or otherwise, will be treated as an act of violence. Any employee determined to have committed such an act will be subject to corrective action, up to and including termination of employment, and such conduct also may be reported to the proper authorities.

The following is a non-inclusive list of prohibited conduct, whether it be physical or verbal, and/or made in jest, anger or otherwise:

- Causing physical injury to another person;
- Communication threats of violence at any time;
- Aggressive or hostile conduct that creates a reasonable fear of threat, an uncomfortable environment, or injury to another employee;
- Words that create a reasonable fear of violence or injury to an employee or an employee's family;
- Intentionally damaging Company property or the property of another employee or any other person in connection with employment with the Company;
- Possession of a weapon while on Company property or on Company business; or
- Sending letters/communication that could be considered threatening.
- Employees are encouraged to report to Human Resources, or to a member of management, any threatened and/or actual dangerous situations. A Company representative will seek to intervene at any indication of a possible hostile or violent situation.

Arbitration

In consideration of employment with Pie Investments Management LLC, Pie Investments DC LLC, Pie Investments Maryland LLC, and Pie Investments Baltimore LLC (collectively, the "Company"), and as a condition of employment, employees agree that any and all disputes, claims, or controversies arising from or related to employment, the terms and conditions of employment, or the termination of employment, shall be resolved exclusively by final and binding arbitration, rather than by a court or jury trial, to the fullest extent permitted by law.

Scope of Arbitration

This Agreement covers all claims that an employee may have against the Company, its affiliates, subsidiaries, owners, officers, managers, or agents, and all claims that the Company may have against the employee. Covered claims include, but are not limited to, those arising under federal, state, or local laws, including but not limited to: discrimination, harassment, wage and hour, contract, tort, or any other employment-related dispute, whether statutory or common law. Claims for workers' compensation benefits, unemployment insurance, and any other claims that cannot legally be arbitrated are excluded from this Agreement.

Venue and Governing Law

Arbitration proceedings shall be held in the state where the employee primarily worked for the Company, in the nearest major metropolitan area to the employee's work location (Washington, D.C., Baltimore, or Northern Virginia, as applicable). The arbitration shall be conducted pursuant to the Federal Arbitration Act ("FAA") and in accordance with the rules of the American Arbitration Association ("AAA") for employment disputes, unless the parties mutually agree otherwise in writing.

Arbitration Process

To initiate arbitration, either party must provide written notice of the claim to the other within the applicable statute of limitations period. The parties shall jointly select an impartial arbitrator experienced in employment law. If the parties cannot agree, the AAA shall appoint the arbitrator. The arbitrator shall have the authority to determine the enforceability of this Agreement and to award all remedies available under applicable law.

Costs and Fees

The cost of the arbitration, including the arbitrator's fees and administrative expenses, shall be shared equally by the parties, except where applicable law requires the Company to bear a greater portion of such costs. Each party shall be responsible for its own attorney's fees, costs, and expenses, unless otherwise provided by statute or awarded by the arbitrator.

Class and Jury Trial Waiver

The Company and the employee agree that all claims covered by this Agreement shall be arbitrated only on an individual basis. Neither party may bring or participate in a class, collective, or representative action in arbitration or in any court proceeding. Both parties expressly waive the right to a trial by jury for any covered claims.

At-Will Employment Relationship

Nothing in this Arbitration Agreement alters the at-will nature of employment with the Company. Either the employee or the Company may terminate the employment relationship at any time, with or without cause or notice, as permitted by law.

This Arbitration Agreement is governed by the Federal Arbitration Act and is intended to be broadly construed and enforceable. If any provision of this Agreement is found unenforceable, it shall be modified to the extent necessary to render it enforceable, and the remaining provisions shall remain in full force and effect.

Compensation, Timekeeping & Payroll

The Company will pay for all hours of work in accordance with applicable law. The Company maintains an accurate accounting of hours worked and pays 1½ times the regular rate of pay to every hourly/non-exempt employee who works overtime hours (more than forty (40) hours in one workweek, unless otherwise provided by applicable law). For all employees, work hours/shifts should be set up to meet business needs in specific departments, particularly those that are needed to support Sales and/or Customer Service or as local management deems necessary.

Employee Classifications

For purposes of salary administration, eligibility for overtime payments, and eligibility for employee benefits, the Company classifies its employees as follows:

- Non-exempt Hourly Full Time Employee – an employee who regularly works more than 30 hours per week and who does not fit within the legal definition of "exempt" as set forth in the Fair Labor Standards Act or applicable state law. Non-exempt employees are paid on an hourly basis and are eligible to receive overtime pay if they work over 40 hours in a work-week. Non-exempt employees are required to maintain accurate and complete time records. Non-exempt full-time employees are eligible for Company benefits. The Company does not provide benefits to Dependents of non-exempt hourly full-time employees.
- Non-exempt Hourly Part Time Employee – an employee who regularly works less than 30 hours per week and who does not fit within the legal definition of "exempt" as set forth in the Fair Labor Standards Act or applicable state law. Non-exempt employees are paid on an hourly basis and are eligible to receive overtime pay if they work over 40 hours in a work-week. Non-exempt employees are required to maintain accurate and complete time records. Non-exempt hourly part time employees are not eligible for Company benefits.

- Exempt Salaried Employee – an employee who works in a position qualified as "exempt" from the minimum and overtime provisions of the Fair Labor Standards Act. Exempt salaried employees are paid on a salary basis and are not eligible to receive overtime pay if they work over 40 hours in a work-week. Exempt salaried employees are eligible for Company benefits, but the Company does not provide benefits to dependents of non-exempt hourly full-time employees.
- Temporary Employee – an individual who is hired in a job established for a specific or limited period or for a specific assignment. Temporary employees are not eligible for Company benefits. Temporary employees are not guaranteed employment with the Company at the end of their temporary assignments. (Note that persons placed with the Company by temporary employment agencies or leasing agencies for specific assignments or for specific periods of time are employees of the respective agency and are not the Company's employees.)

You will be informed of your initial employment classification and of your status as an exempt or non-exempt employee. If you change positions during your employment as a result of a promotion or transfer or if your employment responsibilities change, Human Resources will inform you of any change with respect to your exemption status. Please direct any questions regarding your employment classification or exemption status to Human Resources.

Transferring

Employees are prohibited from working at two stores in the network at the same time. However, a transfer at the beginning of the pay period may be permissible contingent upon approval from your Manager, District Manager, and Human Resources.

The Company reserves the right to transfer employees based on the Company's business needs. If an employee wishes to transfer to another location, they will need to request approval from their supervisor and Human Resources. Subject to approval, the employee will need to complete the Transfer Request form and submit the form to Human Resources. Once Human Resources completes the transfer procedures, the employee and their supervisor will be notified of when the employee may start working at the requested location.

Access to Personnel Files

The Company maintains a personnel file on each employee. The personnel file may include information such as the employee's job application, resume, training records, performance evaluations and salary increases. Personnel files are the property of the Company and access is restricted. Generally, only managers/supervisors with a legitimate reason to review information in a file are allowed to do so.

The Company will, at reasonable times and upon an employee's request, permit the employee to inspect the employee's personnel file used to determine qualifications for employment, promotion, additional compensation, termination or disciplinary action. The Company will make the records available during regular business hours where the records are usually and ordinarily maintained. The Company may require the employee to inspect records on the free time of the employee. The Company reserves the right to limit the number of times employees may review their own personnel files, consistent with applicable law. Employee requests to review their own personnel file should be made to Human Resources:

Human Resources
3070 Bristol Pike Suite 2-231
Bensalem, PA 19020
Email: hr@pieinv.com
Telephone: 215-550-1078

Personnel Data Changes

It is the responsibility of each employee to promptly notify the Company of any changes in personnel data including personal contact information (i.e., email, phone number), mailing address, telephone number, names of dependents, emergency contact information, marital status, and beneficiaries, as this information may affect benefits, Social Security, taxes and other Company information. If the information of an employee changes, please notify your supervisor and Human Resources in writing of the changes that need to be made. Human Resources will follow up with the appropriate forms and procedures that need to be completed in order to update your personnel record. The employee is responsible for consistently updating their information when there is a change.

Meals

Pie Investments ("the Company") is committed to promoting the health, safety, and productivity of all employees by providing meal and rest breaks in accordance with federal, state, and local laws. This policy establishes consistent standards for meal and rest periods across all Company locations in the District of Columbia, Maryland, and Virginia.

General Guidelines

- Employees are expected to take meal and rest breaks as scheduled to ensure proper rest and compliance with wage and hour laws.
- Employees must be completely relieved of all duties during unpaid meal breaks. Engaging in work activities during a meal break is prohibited unless pre-approved by management, in which case the break will be paid.
- Breaks must be taken on Company premises unless otherwise authorized by a manager.
- Employees may not skip or combine breaks without prior management approval.

Meal and Rest Break Requirements by Jurisdiction

District of Columbia (DC)

- Employees working more than 6 consecutive hours are entitled to a 30-minute unpaid meal period.

- Employees under 18 years of age must receive a 30-minute meal break after 5 consecutive hours of work.
- The Company will make reasonable efforts to schedule breaks near the middle of the shift whenever possible.

Maryland

- Employees working more than 6 consecutive hours are entitled to a 30-minute unpaid meal break.
- Employees under 18 years of age must receive a 30-minute meal break for every 5 consecutive hours worked.
- The break must begin no later than the end of the 5th hour of work.
- Meal breaks are unpaid unless the employee is required to remain on duty or perform any work during the break.

Virginia

- Adult employees are not required by law to receive meal or rest breaks; however, Pie Investments provides breaks consistent with Company policy.
- Employees under 18 years of age must receive a 30-minute meal break after 5 consecutive hours worked.
- All employees working a full shift are encouraged to take a 30-minute unpaid meal break and short rest breaks consistent with this policy.

Rest Breaks (All Jurisdictions)

- Short paid rest breaks of up to 15 minutes may be provided during longer shifts at management's discretion.
- Rest breaks are intended to be taken on Company premises and cannot be used to leave early or extend meal periods.
- Breaks should be staggered to maintain adequate staffing and service levels.

Reporting and Compliance

Timekeeping records must accurately reflect when meal periods are taken. If an employee is unable to take a required meal or rest break, the employee must notify a supervisor immediately. Failure to accurately record or follow scheduled breaks may result in disciplinary action.

Non-Retaliation

No employee will be retaliated against for requesting or taking their legally required meal or rest break.

Nursing Mothers

In accordance with applicable law, the Company provides non-exempt employees with reasonable break time to express breast milk for their nursing children for up to one year after their child's birth, each time employees have a need to express the milk. The Company will also provide a place, other than a bathroom, that is shielded from view and free from intrusion, where an employee may express breast milk. Should you have a need to express breast milk during work hours, please contact Human Resources to discuss arrangements.

Timekeeping/Payroll

Work Schedules/Week

Work schedules for employees vary throughout our organization. Managers/supervisors will advise employees of their individual work schedules in advance. Staffing needs and operational demands may necessitate variations in starting and ending times, as well as variations in the total hours that may be scheduled each day and week, including overtime hours.

Your individual schedule of work hours may vary and will be given to you by your Manager. We try to be flexible with all schedule requests, but they are requests, and are not guaranteed. Employees are expected to notify the store manager at least 2 weeks in advance about their availability. Special requests must be submitted in writing to the manager prior to making the schedule for the following week. You will be notified promptly whenever a change is necessary. Should you have any questions concerning your work schedule, please ask your Manager. If your availability changes and you are unable to comply with scheduling requirements, your employment with the Company may be terminated.

Timekeeping

Accurately recording time worked is the responsibility of every employee. "Time worked" is all the time actually spent performing assigned duties. Employees are responsible for accurately recording the time they begin and end their work, as well as the beginning and ending time of each break. They should also record the beginning and ending time of any split shift or departure from work for personal reasons. Employees may not begin work or clock in early or end work or clock out late without a manager's authorization.

Clocking in and clocking out for other employees is strictly prohibited and the Company has a zero-tolerance policy. Both the employee who is clocking in and out and the employee who is being clocked in and out for will be terminated as this is considered falsifying time keeping records.

Altering, falsifying, tampering with time records or recording time on another Employee's record is strictly prohibited. If corrections or modifications are made to the time record, both the employee and the manager/supervisor must verify the accuracy of the changes. A Missing Hours form must be completed by the employee or their supervisor and submitted to the District Manager and payroll for approval. District Managers, Director of Operations, and Human Resources are the only personnel authorized to modify timekeeping records on the back-office system. Unauthorized altering or tampering with time records is a breach of the Company's policy and will result in termination.

It is imperative that employees' clock in and clock out at the times they are scheduled to work. Failure to clock in and clock out may result in disciplinary action, up to and including termination. Once the schedule is posted, if an employee wishes to take a day off on a time that he/she is required to report to work, the employee must request time off by completing a Time Off Request at least 2 weeks prior to their anticipated absence. They are also responsible for finding his/her own replacement. If an emergency arises, the employee must notify, in writing, their supervisor 8 hours in advance or as soon as they are aware that they will not be able to report to duty. A manager must approve all time off requests and replacements. Employees should submit a Time Off Request form as well as documentation. If an employee is unable to provide documentation before the employee's absence, the employee will need to provide it on his/her first shift back to work. Failure to provide documentation and reporting to duty when scheduled without written request or authorization is considered an abandonment of the employee's position and duties and may result in termination.

No Working Off the Clock

Employees are responsible for maintaining an accurate accounting of all hours worked. Employees should not work outside of scheduled hours unless his/her manager/supervisor has authorized the employee to do so in advance. It is illegal and against Company policy to allow or require a non-exempt employee to work "off the clock." "Off the clock" work is work for the Company that is not reported on the employee's card.

Any employee who fails to report or inaccurately reports any hours worked will be subject to disciplinary action, up to and including immediate termination.

Reporting Procedure

It is a violation of Company policy for any employee to falsify a timecard or to alter another employee's timecard. It is also a serious violation of Company policy for any employee or manager/supervisor to instruct another employee to incorrectly or falsely report hours worked or alter another employee's timecard to under- or over-report hours worked. If any manager/supervisor or employee instructs you to: (1) incorrectly or falsely under -or over- report your hours worked, (2) alter another employee's time records to inaccurately or falsely report that employee's hours worked, or (3) conceal any falsification of time records or to violate this policy, do not do so. Immediately report any of the above to Human Resources in writing (including by email or text message).

The Company has a strong policy against any form of retaliation against individuals who make good faith reports of alleged violations of this policy or who cooperate in the investigation of such reports. Any form of retaliation in violation of this policy may result in disciplinary action, up to and including immediate termination.

Authorization of Overtime

Overtime compensation is paid to non-exempt employees in accordance with federal and state wage and hour statutes. Overtime pay is based on actual hours worked. Any overtime worked by a non-exempt employee must be approved in advance by a manager/supervisor. Failure to obtain approval may result in disciplinary action.

Overtime Pay

Non-exempt hourly employees will be paid overtime at the rate of one and one-half (1.5) times their regular hourly rate of pay for all time worked in excess of 40 work hours during the established work week. If applicable state law provides a more stringent overtime requirement, that state requirement applies.

For purposes of calculating overtime payments, holidays, vacation days, jury duty leave, bereavement leave, and any other leaves of absence are considered "hours paid" but not "hours worked".

Paydays

All payroll checks are distributed via Direct deposit (Occasionally, paper paycheck) on a bi-weekly basis. The pay period runs from Sunday to Saturday . The checks are released to employees on Mondays after 10am. Except as required by law, payroll checks will not be released prior to the set pay schedule for any reason, except as approved by Human Resources, checks will be released to anyone other than the Employee.

Upon receipt of the paycheck, the employee will be required to sign the provided paycheck receipt form that verifies that they have received their paycheck.

Paychecks will be available to pick up at the store on paydays. When picking up the paycheck during the designated times, do not disrupt business operations. It is important that we maintain a professional work environment for our customers, so kindly be patient and respectful of the Company's guests and team members when arriving to pick up paychecks. Causing disruptions is a violation of the Company policy and is subject to disciplinary actions if not complaint.

The company will provide seven business days for individuals that did not have the opportunity to pick up their checks. If checks are not ~~picked up~~ within that seven-day window (Saturday following payday to Thursday following payday), the employee must notify Human Resources by contacting them at hr@pieinv.com to make arrangements to pick up the checks at the designated corporate office. Should you have any questions or comments, please contact human resources via email at hr@pieinv.com.

Payroll Deductions

All employees will have certain deductions, including federal, state, and city taxes, as well as any court ordered deductions/garnishments, withheld from their wages.

The Company offers programs and benefits beyond those required by law. Eligible employees may voluntarily authorize deductions from their paychecks to cover the costs of participation in these programs. If you have questions concerning why deductions were made from your paycheck or how they were calculated, your manager/supervisor or Human Resources can assist in having your questions answered.

Please review your paycheck for deduction errors. If you find a mistake, report it to your manager/supervisor immediately. Your manager/supervisor will assist you in taking the steps necessary to correct the error.

Administrative Pay Corrections

The Company takes all reasonable steps to ensure that employees receive the correct amount of pay in each paycheck and that employees are paid promptly on the scheduled payday. Occasionally, however, inadvertent mistakes can happen. You are expected to review your pay statement to make sure your paycheck is correct.

In the unlikely event that there is an error in the amount of pay, the employee must promptly bring the discrepancy to the attention of his/her manager/supervisor so that corrections can be made as quickly as possible.

Similarly, if The Company discovers an error in pay, it will immediately contact the employee and pay the employee any additional amount due, or advise the employee that a pay setoff will occur for any amounts overpaid, as applicable.

Be aware that if you are overpaid in error, you are expected to report this overpayment immediately. Failure to do so could result in disciplinary action.

Tip reporting and Distribution Policy

Pie Investments (“the Company”) complies with all federal, state, and local laws governing tips, gratuities, and service charges. This policy outlines how tips are reported, distributed, and recorded to ensure compliance with Internal Revenue Service (IRS) regulations and applicable wage and hour laws.

Definition of Tips

A “tip” is a voluntary amount of money given by a customer to an employee in recognition of good service. Tips belong to the employee or the shared tip pool and cannot be withheld by the Company except for required payroll tax deductions or lawful tip pooling arrangements.

Tip Reporting Requirements

All tipped employees must report 100% of their received tips daily through the Company’s point-of-sale (POS) system or approved reporting form.

Employees must accurately record both cash and credit card tips before the close of each shift. Reported tips are included in the employee’s gross wages for tax and Social Security purposes, as required by the IRS.

Failure to report tips accurately may result in corrective action, including disciplinary measures up to and including termination.

Credit Card Tips

Credit card tips are paid to employees no later than the following regular payroll cycle. The Company may deduct the proportional credit card processing fee (not to exceed the actual fee charged by the card processor) from the tip amount, as permitted by law.

Tip Pooling and Distribution

The Company may maintain a tip pool among eligible employees whose duties directly contribute to customer service. Participation in the tip pool will be determined by job classification (e.g., delivery drivers, front counter staff, and shift leads). Managers and supervisors are not permitted to share in the tip pool or retain any portion of employee tips. Tip pooling percentages and participants will be communicated in writing and may vary by location based on operational needs.

IRS and State Compliance

Employees are required to declare all tips earned, including cash tips received directly from customers. The Company will report tip income and withhold applicable payroll taxes on all reported tips in accordance with IRS and state law. Under federal law, the Company may claim a tip credit toward its minimum wage obligation only when employees receive sufficient tips to meet or exceed the required minimum wage. For jurisdictions that restrict or prohibit tip credits, such as DC and Maryland, the Company will comply with the respective state’s minimum wage laws.

Auditing and Accuracy

The Company reserves the right to audit reported tips, review POS data, and require signed verification from employees to ensure accurate reporting. Employees found intentionally underreporting tips or misrepresenting tip amounts may face disciplinary action.

Employee Acknowledgment

All tipped employees must acknowledge this policy and understand that failure to comply with tip reporting requirements may result in corrective or disciplinary action, up to and including termination.

Absence Without Pay

Family and Medical Leave Act (FMLA)

Under federal law, eligible employees are permitted to take an unpaid leave of up to twelve (12) weeks during a twelve-month period for the following reasons:

- The birth of a child and to care for a newborn child within one year of birth;
- For the placement of a child with an employee through adoption or foster care and to care for the newly placed child within one year of placement;
- To care for a spouse, child or parent of an employee due to a serious health condition; or
- Due to a serious health condition of an employee that makes the employee unable to perform the essential functions of his or her position.

Active-Duty Leave

Eligible employees can take up to twelve (12) weeks of FMLA leave due to a spouse, son, daughter or parent being on active duty or having been notified of an impending call or order to active duty in the National Guard or Reserves. Leave may be used for any “qualifying exigency” arising out of the service member’s current tour of active duty or because the service member is notified of an impending call to duty in support of a contingency operation.

Service Member Family Leave

Eligible employees can take up to twenty six (26) weeks of FMLA leave during a single twelve- month period to care for a member of the Armed Forces, including a member of the National Guard or Reserves, who has suffered a serious injury or illness in the line of duty while on active duty that may render the service member medically unfit to perform the duties of his/her office, grade, rank or rating. It is broadly applied to include service members who are undergoing medical treatment, recuperation, or therapy, are otherwise in outpatient status, or are otherwise on the temporary disability retired list, for a serious injury or illness. (For this type of leave, the definition of a covered employee includes spouse, son, daughter, parent, or next of kin of a covered service member).

Requesting FMLA Leave

Whenever possible, employees must notify the Human Resources at least 30 days prior to foreseeable events and as soon as practicable for unforeseeable events so the Company can arrange for the necessary approval and find someone to perform the employee's work during their absence. Requests for leave should be made in writing to Human Resources, stating the reason for the leave, the starting date, and the planned date for return to work. If the leave is foreseeable based on a planned medical leave the employee must make a reasonable effort to schedule treatment so as not to unduly disrupt Company operations.

Appropriate certification, including a health care provider's statement, must be submitted verifying the need for medical related needs and identifying the beginning and expected ending dates. An FMLA request form may be obtained from the Human Resources department. The Company may require a second medical opinion at the Company's expense. Documentation confirming family relationship, adoption or foster care may be required. If notification and appropriate certification are not provided in a timely manner, approval for leave may be denied. Continued absence after denial of leave may result in disciplinary action in accordance with the Company's attendance policy, subject to applicable law.

Returning to Work

To ensure that an employee's return to work can be properly scheduled, an employee on FMLA leave should provide Human Resources with at least two (2) weeks advance notice of the employee's intended return date. In addition, the Company may require that an employee provide a fitness for duty certification prior to permitting an Employee to return to work from FMLA leave due to his or her own serious health condition, including in situations where the employee is on an intermittent or reduced leave schedule if reasonable safety concerns exist.

The Company also reserves the right to require an employee to submit to a fitness for duty examination by a healthcare provider selected by Company in accordance with the Americans with Disabilities Act as well as other applicable law (see below).

If the employee is able but does not return to work after the expiration of the leave, the employee will be required to reimburse the Company for payment of insurance premiums during the FMLA Leave. The employee's failure to report to work may be deemed a voluntary resignation.

Employees who return to work from FMLA Leave will be returned to their same job or an equivalent position subject to the requirements of FMLA. The Company reserves the right to relocate employees contingent upon the Company's needs. Certain highly compensated employees (key employees) may have limited reinstatement rights.

Military Leave

The Company complies with the Uniformed Services Employment and Reemployment Rights Act (USERRA) governing leave requirements for those employees serving in the United States armed forces. Employees required to participate in training as part of a military reserve or other military training program, or who are called to military duty will be permitted leave without pay, as required by law. While on military leave, employees will continue to accrue benefits as required by law. To the extent possible, any employee who expects to take military leave must inform the Company in advance with details regarding the length of requested leave, and departure and predicted return dates.

Jury Duty

The Company encourages employees to fulfill their civic responsibilities by serving on jury duty when required. Employees must show the jury duty summons or other subpoena as soon as possible to his or her manager/supervisor so that arrangements to accommodate for their absence can be made. Written verification from the court clerk of having served is required.

Bereavement Leave

Regular full-time employees are eligible for bereavement leave of up to three (3) unpaid days per calendar year to attend the funeral and/or to make funeral arrangements for an immediate family member as defined in this policy. Employees requesting Bereavement Leave should notify their manager/supervisor as soon as practicable, and are responsible for providing documentation. Bereavement leave will normally be granted unless there are unusual business needs or staffing requirements. For the purpose of this policy, "Immediate family member" is defined as an employee's spouse, domestic partner, child, parent, grandparent, mother-in-law, father-in-law or siblings. Consideration will also be given for Bereavement Leave to mourn an individual whose association or relationship with the employee was similar to the above aforementioned individuals.

Leave Due to Domestic Violence, Sexual Assault or Stalking

The Company provides eligible employees with up to eight workweeks of unpaid leave from work in any twelve- month period so that they, or someone in their family or household, can get assistance in dealing with domestic or sexual violence by:

- Seeking medical attention for, or recovering from, physical or psychological injuries caused by domestic or sexual violence, assault, or stalking to the employee or the employee's family or household member;
- Obtaining services from a victim services organization for the employee or the employee's family or household member;
- Obtaining psychological or other counseling for the employee or the employee's family or household member;
- Participating in safety planning, temporarily or permanently relocating, or taking other actions to increase the safety of the employee or the employee's family or household member from future domestic or sexual violence, assault, or stalking or ensure economic security; or
- Seeking legal assistance or remedies to ensure the health and safety of the employee or the employee's family or household member, including preparing for or participating in any civil or criminal legal proceeding related to or derived from domestic or sexual violence, assault, or stalking.

An employee requesting leave may be required to provide certification that he/she is taking leave because he/she or his/her family or household member is a victim of domestic violence, sexual assault, or stalking, and the leave is for purposes permissible by law. In addition, the Company may require the employee to provide documentation that the employee has sought assistance covered by this policy, a police or court record, or other corroborating evidence. Employees taking this leave may also be expected to provide a report periodically on their status and intention to return to work. The Company will keep this information in the strictest confidence, and will disclose it only with the employee's consent or as required by law.

An employee who is entitled to take paid or unpaid leave, pursuant to federal, state, or local law, or an employment benefits program or plan, including FMLA, may elect to substitute any period of such leave for an equivalent period of leave provided under this policy. If an employee exercises his or her rights to substitute other categories of leave time, the amount of such substituted leave taken by the employee shall be subtracted from the leave time he/she is entitled to under this policy. Eligible employees may elect to use any earned, paid leave for which they may be eligible upon the commencement of, and concurrently with this leave. Paid leave will run concurrently with and be counted toward the employee's 8-week leave. Once such benefits are exhausted, any remaining leave will be without pay, unless other benefits are available. Upon timely return from leave, the employee will be returned to his/her prior position or an equivalent position with equivalent benefits, pay and other terms and conditions.

During the leave period, the Company will continue to pay its then current portion of premiums for health coverage, if any, at the same level and conditions as if the employee were actively employed. Employees who usually make co-payments for health coverage must continue to do so during the leave. Co-payments or premiums must be timely delivered to the Company benefits management service. Contact information will be provided to you upon request. If any co-payment or premium is more than 30 days past due, an employee's health insurance may be terminated, after 15 days' written notice, for the duration of the leave period. However, if an employee's leave entitlement expires and the employee does not return to work, the Company has no obligation to continue paying health insurance premiums on behalf of the employee and has no obligation to restore him or her to employment. The Company may recover the health insurance premiums that it paid on an employee's behalf during any unpaid leave period covered solely by this policy, if the employee fails to return from leave for any reason other than the continuation, recurrence or onset of domestic violence, sexual assault, or stalking that entitled to the employee to leave in accordance with this policy.

If you wish to take such leave, you must make a request to your Manager at least 48-hours before taking leave, unless it is impractical to do so, in which case, you are expected to give notice as soon as possible. The Company will not discharge, harass or otherwise discriminate against any individual because he/she exercised his/her rights or opposed any practice made unlawful by this policy or applicable law.

Workers Compensation Insurance

It is the employee's responsibility to immediately report any on-the-job injury to his/her manager. An accident report must be completed immediately, and certainly within 24 hours, after the injury has occurred, and as well, the Human Resources Department must be notified. An employee may be entitled to receive benefits under the applicable state worker's compensation law if the injury requires medical attention and an extended absence.

Employment with Us

New Hire Documentation

Each employee must complete certain documents before the Company will add the employee to the schedule. Each new employee must complete a Form W-4, Employee's Withholding Allowance Certificate, so the Company knows how much income tax to withhold from each employee's wages. A Form I-9 to verify employment eligibility must also be completed. In addition, the employee handbook receipt, the uniform receipt, and an emergency contact form must be completed in entirety. It is the responsibility of the new hire to provide current and correct contact information including permanent mailing address, telephone number, email address, and emergency contact information when completing the emergency contact form. It is the employee's responsibility to notify their supervisor of any changes to this information. The employee will be responsible for completing a new emergency contact form and providing updated information to the Company each time an update is necessary.

Driver Qualification and Motor Vehicle Record (MVR) Policy

Employees who operate Company vehicles or use their personal vehicles for Company business represent Pie Investments (“the Company”) to our customers and the public. To promote safety, protect our reputation, and comply with insurance requirements, the Company maintains a Driver Qualification and Motor Vehicle Record (MVR) Policy for all authorized drivers.

Driver Qualification Requirements

- Possess and maintain a valid driver’s license appropriate for the vehicle operated.
- Have an acceptable driving record as determined by the Company and its insurance carrier.
- Successfully complete an MVR review prior to hire and annually thereafter.
- Report any citation, suspension, or revocation of driving privileges to their supervisor or Human Resources within 24 hours of occurrence.
- Refrain from the use of handheld devices or engaging in distracted driving while operating a Company vehicle.

MVR Review Process

The Company will obtain MVRs for all applicable employees at the time of hire and annually thereafter. Employees with more than two (2) moving violations or one (1) major violation (such as DUI, reckless driving, or leaving the scene of an accident) within the past twelve (12) months may be subject to disciplinary action, up to and including termination.

Accidents and Reporting

Any accident involving a Company vehicle, or a personal vehicle used for Company business, must be reported immediately to the employee’s supervisor and Human Resources. A written report must be submitted within twenty-four (24) hours of the incident, even if no injury or damage occurred. Failure to promptly report an accident may result in disciplinary action.

Disciplinary Consequences

Employees who fail to comply with this policy, lose their driving privileges, or no longer meet the Company’s driving standards may be subject to removal from driving duties, reassignment, suspension, or termination of employment. Continued employment is contingent upon maintaining the qualifications set forth in this policy. The Company reserves the right to modify or supplement this policy at any time to ensure compliance with applicable laws and to maintain safe operating standards.

Employment of Minors Policy

Pie Investments (“the Company”) is committed to providing a safe and compliant work environment for all employees, including minors. This policy ensures full compliance with all applicable child labor laws in the District of Columbia, Maryland, and Virginia.

General Requirements:

- The minimum age for employment with the Company is 16 years old.
- All minors must obtain and present a valid work permit or employment certificate before beginning work.
- Work permits must be kept on file at the store location during the period of employment.
- Within five (5) business days of a minor’s start date, the Company will provide written notice of employment to the issuing authority as required by law.

Hours and Scheduling Restrictions

The Company will comply with all applicable scheduling and hour restrictions for minors in each jurisdiction:

District of Columbia

- Minors under 18 may not work more than 8 hours per day or 48 hours per week.
- When school is in session, minors may not work before 7:00 a.m. or after 10:00 p.m. on school nights.
- A 30-minute unpaid meal break must be provided for shifts exceeding 6 consecutive hours.

Maryland

- Minors under 18 may not work more than 5 consecutive hours without a 30-minute break.
- When school is in session, minors may not work more than 4 hours on a school day or 23 hours per week.
- During non-school weeks, minors may not work more than 8 hours per day or 40 hours per week.

Virginia

- Minors aged 16–17 may not work more than 8 hours per day or 40 hours per week.
- Minors under 18 must receive a 30-minute meal break after 5 hours worked.
- Work hours must fall between 6:00 a.m. and 11:00 p.m. when school is in session, unless otherwise permitted by the Department of Labor and Industry.

Prohibited Duties

- Operating power-driven bakery, slicing, or meat-processing equipment.
- Driving or assisting in vehicle deliveries.
- Handling or serving alcoholic beverages.
- Operating power-driven mixers, fryers, or similar industrial kitchen equipment without appropriate safety guards.

Supervision

Store Managers and Shift Leaders are responsible for ensuring that all scheduling, task assignments, and break periods for minors comply with applicable labor laws. Any violation must be reported immediately to Human Resources.

Disciplinary Consequences

Failure to comply with this policy or any child labor regulation may result in disciplinary action, up to and including termination of employment. Managers who knowingly schedule minors in violation of law or fail to maintain proper documentation may also face disciplinary action.

All minors hired by The Company must be at least 16 years old must and provide a valid work permit prior to beginning work with The Company. A minor is any individual under 18 years of age. Work permits are issued by the school district in which the minor resides, and it is the minor's responsibility to obtain his or her own work permit(s). Within 5 days of a minor's start date, the Company will provide written notice of employment to the school district issuing the permit. Each minor's hours of work and work time must comply with Pennsylvania's Child Labor Law.

The number of hours a minor may work per day and per week depends upon their age, whether school is in session, and the state they work in. The maximum daily and weekly hours allowed are different from state to state. In all cases, minors may not work during the hours when they are required to attend school. It is the minor employee's responsibility to know the restrictions of their work hours.

Lateness and Absenteeism

Each employee is a necessary part of our organization and the full effort of every employee is required at all times to maintain our activities at the proper level. Excessive lateness and/or absence will not be tolerated and may result in corrective action, up to and including termination of employment if lateness/absence is continuous or habitual. It is important to be punctual and be at your worksite/station at the start of the workday.

If lateness is unavoidable, it is your responsibility to call or text and inform your manager/supervisor. It is an unacceptable practice to leave a message with the Receptionist or to have another employee communicate the message for you.

As important, employees are expected to arrive to work with enough time so that, if they choose, they may go for coffee or take care of any personal needs and be at their desk to start work at the expected start time.

In regard to all employees at any level, individual absences or patterns of absences must be kept to a minimum and limited to good reason(s). Excessive or patterned absences may result in corrective action, up to and including termination of employment. Failure to adhere to the above policy may result in corrective action, up to and including termination of employment. Any employee who fails to call in to their supervisor for 3 consecutive days or for 2 days in a row in a six month period will be considered to have resigned their position through job abandonment. As well, if any employee is out for three consecutive days and returns, a doctor's note may be required.

Prohibition Period Policy

The Prohibition Period provides a structured evaluation phase for all newly hired, rehired, promoted, or demoted employees. It ensures that performance, attendance, and conduct align with Pie Investments' standards and that employees are set up for long-term success within the Company.

Duration

- The standard Prohibition Period is ninety (90) calendar days from the employee's date of hire, rehire, promotion, or demotion.
- Management may extend the period if additional time is required to evaluate performance or conduct.
- Completion of the Prohibition Period does not guarantee continued employment or alter the at-will employment relationship.

Conditions During the Prohibition Period

- PTO Restriction: Employees are not eligible to use Paid Time Off (PTO) during the Prohibition Period. PTO accrues from the date of hire but cannot be used until the period is successfully completed.
- Bonus Restriction: Employees are not eligible for any performance-based bonuses, incentive pay, or discretionary bonus payouts during the Prohibition Period. This applies to both newly hired employees and existing employees who are placed back into a Prohibition Period due to disciplinary action, demotion, or performance review.

- Benefits Eligibility: Enrollment in Company-sponsored benefits (such as health insurance or other discretionary programs) begins only after successful completion of the Prohibition Period, unless otherwise required by law.
- Performance Monitoring: Supervisors and District Managers will monitor job performance, reliability, professionalism, teamwork, and adherence to Company policies.
- Disciplinary Reset: Employees who receive formal disciplinary action or a corrective performance plan may be placed back into a 90-day Prohibition Period following written notice from management and Human Resources.

Promotion, Demotion, and Transfers

- Employees who are promoted or transferred into a new position will enter a new 90-day Prohibition Period to assess performance in the new role.
- Employees who are demoted due to performance issues or operational restructuring will also enter a new 90-day Prohibition Period.
- During this time, management will evaluate the employee's ability to meet the expectations of the new role.
- If the employee does not demonstrate satisfactory improvement or compliance, further action may include reassignment, unpaid status, or termination.

Performance Reviews and Disciplinary Triggers

- During annual performance reviews, the Company will also evaluate whether an employee should be placed back into a Prohibition Period due to performance concerns, attendance issues, or recurring policy violations.
- Any employee who receives two (2) written disciplinary warnings or a suspension within a 12-month period will automatically be placed into a 90-day Prohibition Period to re-evaluate continued employment.
- During this period, the employee may be placed on unpaid status for part or all of the period if performance expectations are not met.
- If substantial improvement is not observed during or by the conclusion of the 90-day period, the employee may be subject to termination of employment.

Evaluation and Completion

- At the conclusion of any Prohibition Period, the employee's manager will complete a formal performance review to determine one of the following outcomes:
 1. Successful completion of the Prohibition Period and reinstatement to regular status;
 2. Extension of the Prohibition Period for an additional 90 days; or
 3. Termination of employment for failure to meet performance or conduct standards.
 Management and HR must jointly approve all extensions or terminations under this policy.

Reinstatement and Extensions

- The Company reserves the right to extend or reimpose a Prohibition Period at any time based on performance, attendance, or disciplinary circumstances.
- Employees returning from extended leave, or those transferred or reassigned, may also be subject to a new Prohibition Period.

Acknowledgment

All employees must sign an acknowledgment confirming that they understand the Prohibition Period Policy and the conditions of employment associated with it.

Complaint Procedure

Individuals who believe they have been subjected to discrimination or harassment by a co-worker, a manager/supervisor, a customer, a vendor/supplier, or other individual, whether or not employed by The Company should immediately make a written report to the Company's Human Resources department:

Company - Human Resources
3070 Bristol Pike Suite 2-231
Bensalem, PA 19020
Email: hr@pieinv.com
Telephone: 215-550-1078

If the report involves a member of the Human Resources department or you are uncomfortable complaining to HR, the Complaint should be directed to:

John Low
3070 Bristol Pike Suite 2-231
Bensalem, PA 19020
Email: John@pieinv.com Telephone: 410-236-2433

If an individual is unable to make a written complaint, he/she should telephone HR at the above telephone number and schedule a time to meet with HR.

Any manager/supervisor who receives a complaint from an employee must immediately report the matter to Human Resources. Any individual who fails to immediately report such a complaint will be subject to appropriate disciplinary action, up to and including termination.

The Company will investigate all complaints in a fair and expeditious manner. The Company will maintain the confidentiality of such complaints to the extent doing so allows for a full and complete investigation of the facts and circumstances giving rise to the complaint. Human Resources may request written or verbal statements by employees in connection with fact finding. All employees are expected to cooperate fully in the Company's efforts to investigate and enforce this policy. Following the investigation, the Company will, to the extent appropriate, inform the person filing the complaint and the person alleged to have committed the conduct of the results of that investigation. If an employee believes that his or her report or complaint of a possible violation has not been promptly or properly addressed, the employee should immediately notify Human Resources.

If it is the Company's finding that inappropriate conduct has occurred, The Company will take such disciplinary action as is appropriate under the circumstances, up to and including termination.

Background Check Policy

Pie Investments ("the Company") is committed to maintaining a safe, secure, and high-integrity workplace. To achieve this goal, the Company conducts background checks as part of the hiring and onboarding process for all new employees and may also conduct additional screenings as permitted by law during the course of employment.

The purpose of the background check is to verify information provided by the applicant, evaluate suitability for employment, and ensure compliance with state and federal regulations applicable to our industry.

Scope of Screening

Background checks may include, but are not limited to, verification of identity, criminal history, education, employment history, and other relevant credentials. For positions that require access to cash, financial data, or Company vehicles, additional screening such as credit or driving history may be performed.

All background checks are conducted in accordance with the Fair Credit Reporting Act (FCRA) and applicable state laws. Applicants will receive advance written notice and must provide written authorization before any background check is performed. A copy of the consumer report and summary of rights will be provided to any individual whose employment is adversely affected by background check results.

Confidentiality

Background check results are treated as strictly confidential and will only be shared with individuals who have a legitimate business need to know. Information obtained through the background check process will not be used in violation of any federal, state, or local equal employment opportunity laws.

Any falsification, omission, or misrepresentation of information during the hiring process or background check may result in the withdrawal of a job offer or termination of employment.

Anti-Retaliation Policy

Retaliation against any person who in good faith has filed a complaint of discrimination or harassment, reported a violation of the law, raised questions or concerns, or otherwise participated in an investigation of such matters or complaints will not be tolerated. Retaliation is unlawful and will result in appropriate disciplinary action, up to and including termination. Individuals who believe that they have been retaliated against for making a complaint of discrimination and/or harassment or for reporting a violation of the law should immediately contact the Company's Human Resources Department, following the same Complaint Procedure outlined above.

Workplace Concerns

Employees are responsible for abiding by all applicable laws and regulations, as well as all of the Company's policies and procedures. Employees must also deal honestly and fairly with colleagues, customers, and others at all times and fully cooperate with the Company's efforts to maintain a high standard of business conduct and ethics. It is the personal responsibility of each employee to conduct Company business in a manner consistent with these principles. This responsibility cannot be negated by contrary instructions from a manager/supervisor or by turning a "blind eye." In addition, any employee who becomes aware of any possible wrongdoing or deviation from applicable laws, regulations, or the Company's policies and procedures, is obligated to immediately bring the matter to the attention of his or her manager/supervisor (or Human Resources if the immediate manager/supervisor is involved in the wrongdoing) and is obligated to cooperate fully and candidly with Company inquiries or investigations.

into any matter. Any employee may, at any time, also discuss any possible wrongdoing or deviations with Human Resources.

Outside Employment or Moonlighting

Unless otherwise specifically prohibited, employees may hold a job with another company as long as it does not create a real or implied conflict of interest and it does not interfere with an employee's ability to satisfactorily perform their work responsibilities with The Company.

Personal Relationships in the Workplace

The employment of relatives or individuals involved in a dating relationship in the same store or area of an organization may cause serious conflicts and problems with favoritism and employee morale. Intentional or unintentional partiality in treatment at work may occur and personal conflicts from outside the work environment can be carried over into day-to-day working relationships. For purposes of this policy, a "Relative" is any person who is related by blood or marriage, who cohabits with the employee, or whose relationship with the employee is substantially similar to that of persons who are related by blood or marriage. A "Dating Relationship" is defined as a relationship that may be reasonably expected to lead to the formation of a consensual "romantic" or sexual relationship. This policy applies without regard to the gender or sexual orientation of the individuals involved.

Any individuals involved in a Dating Relationship with a current employee may not occupy a position that will cause the individual to supervise or be supervised by the other employee. If this occurs, each employee is obligated to immediately disclose the existence of the relationship to Management. The Company has the sole discretion to take prompt action if an actual or potential conflict of interest arises involving relatives or individuals in a Dating Relationship to the extent their positions (whether higher or lower) may affect the review of employment decisions.

If a Relative relationship or Dating Relationship is established after employment commences and is between employees who are in a reporting situation described above, it is the responsibility and obligation of the manager/supervisor and employee(s) involved to disclose the existence of the relationship to Management. The Company will take action that it deems, in its sole discretion, to be appropriate to resolve any conflict.

Employment of Relatives / Anti-Nepotism Policy

The Company may employ relatives of current employees when doing so does not create any Conflicts of interest, favoritism, or problems with supervision, safety, security, or morale. For purposes of this policy, a "relative" is defined as: Any individual related by blood, including, but not limited to: parent, child, grandparent, grandchild, sibling, uncle, aunt, cousin, niece, or nephew, Any individual related by marriage, including but not limited to: husband, wife, step-parent, step-child, step-brother, step-sister, brother-in-law, sister-in-law, father-in-law, mother-in-law, son-in-law, daughter-in-law, half-brother, half-sister, a cohabiting significant other, or Any individual otherwise related by law, including an individual related by way of domestic partnership, adoption, foster care, or legal guardianship.

Rules Regarding Employment of Relatives

Upon receipt of an application for employment from a current employee's relative, the Company will consider that individual for employment solely on the basis of his/her qualifications for the position. The Company will evaluate the employment of relatives on an individual, case-by-case basis. If the Company decides to employ the relative of a current employee, the following rules apply:

- Relatives may not be in a supervisor/subordinate relationship with each other.
- Relatives may not supervise or evaluate each other.
- Relatives may not audit or review in any manner each other's work.

The Company will not employ any relative of an employee who serves on the Company's Board of Directors, works in Human Resources, or has the authority to review or order personnel actions or wage and salary adjustments that could affect the relative's job, unless required by law.

The Company will not employ or continue to employ relatives if their employment causes a potential or actual disruption in the workplace, adversely impacts work productivity or performance, creates an actual or perceived conflict of interest, or otherwise causes problems of supervision, safety, security, or morale, unless required by law.

When an employee experiences either a change in employment status (i.e. the assignment, transfer, promotion, or demotion of an employee) or a change in relationship status (i.e. entering into a relationship with another employee such that the employees are now relatives) that results in a violation of the rules set forth in this policy, the Company will engage in reasonable efforts to find an accommodation that resolves the violation identified. If an accommodation is not possible, the Company will allow the affected employees to decide who will resign.

Reporting Procedures and Consequences For Noncompliance

Any employee and the supervisor of any employee who experiences a change in employment status or a change in relationship status that results in a violation of the rules set forth in this policy must report the change to the HR department. The HR department will engage in reasonable efforts to find an accommodation that resolves the violation identified. If an accommodation is not possible, the Company will allow the affected employees to decide who will resign. All employees are responsible for following the reporting procedures discussed above. Employees who fail to comply with the reporting procedures will be subject to disciplinary action, up to and including termination.

Performance Evaluations

The Company aims to evaluate the performance of District Managers, Managers, Assistant Managers, and Shift Leaders through the use of scheduled performance appraisals. Performance evaluations foster ongoing communication, assure mutual understanding of responsibilities and work assignments, support the development of clear, consistent, and measurable goals, help to articulate and support training needs, and establish criteria for making reward and recognition decisions.

An evaluation is not a guarantee of a pay increase. Although a pay increase may be given at the time of the evaluation, it is not automatic. Decisions regarding pay adjustments are at the sole discretion of the Company and such decisions are dependent upon numerous factors, of which the formal performance evaluation process is just one.

Team Member Benefits

Health Plans

Pie Investments LLC realizes the importance that employees place on health care coverage for themselves and their families. Medical/Dental benefits will be offered to regular full-time team members effective their date of hire after the completion of Prohibition period. It is the Company's intention to provide employees with comprehensive coverage and varied plan choice at competitive rates. An employee's contribution for medical cost will be determined by the plan type, coverage elected and the employee's annual earnings. Please note that nothing contained in the benefit plans shall be held or construed to create a promise of employment or future benefits, or a binding contract between the Company and its employees, retirees or their dependents. Nothing in the benefit plans changes the at-will nature of an employee's employment status and all employees shall remain subject to termination or discipline to the same extent as if these plans had not been put into effect.

The Company reserves the right, in its sole and absolute discretion, to amend, modify or terminate, in whole or in part, the provisions of any or all benefits, including those described herein, including any health benefits that may be extended to retirees and their dependents. Further, the Company reserves the exclusive right, power and authority, in its sole and absolute discretion, to administer, apply and interpret the benefit plans described herein, and to decide all matters arising in connection with the operation or administration of such plans. All employees who wish to be covered under the PIE Health insurance benefits must make an affirmative election to do so. Failure to complete an election/enrollment during this open enrollment period will result in no health insurance coverage. Any employee not opting for the Company coverage must sign a waiver and submit it with Human Resources within 90 days of the start of employment. The Company will only cover the cost of the employee; any excess cost related to dependents will need to be fully covered by the employee.

COBRA

The Consolidated Omnibus Budget Reconciliation Act (COBRA) provides eligible employees and their dependents notification of their rights under the continuation coverage provisions of applicable law. You, your spouse, and covered dependents should familiarize yourself with your rights and obligations under the law.

If you are an employee covered by Company's health benefits, you have the right to choose continuation of coverage for yourself and/or your covered dependents if you lose your group health coverage because of separation of employment or reduction in work hours. Under COBRA, the employee or a family member has the responsibility to inform the Human Resources Department of a divorce, legal separation, or a child losing dependent status under our coverage.

Medical/dental benefits shall cease as of the last day of the month in which the separation occurred. The Human Resources Department will notify our COBRA administrator of the cancellation of coverage and our COBRA administrator will, in turn, process the necessary COBRA documentation, which is sent directly to the former employee's or dependent's home address.

If continuation coverage is not chosen, group health insurance coverage will end. If continuation coverage is chosen within the required time period, the Company is required to provide coverage, which is identical to the current plan, at a cost of 102% of our cost. Failure to pay the premium will result in loss of benefits. Please see the Human Resources Department for more information on COBRA.

Worker's Compensation

The Company provides worker's compensation insurance as required by law at no cost to employees. This program covers any injury or illness sustained in the course of employment that requires medical treatment. Subject to applicable legal requirements, worker's compensation insurance provides benefits after a short waiting period, or, if the employee is hospitalized, immediately.

We expect employees to perform their jobs in a safe manner and each employee is accountable for observing all safety rules and precautions at all times. Employees who sustain work-related injuries or illnesses – no matter how minor they may appear – are required to inform their manager/supervisor immediately. This will enable an eligible employee to qualify for coverage as quickly as possible.

Neither the Company nor the insurance carrier will be liable for the payment of worker's compensation benefits for injuries that occur during an employee's voluntary participation in any off-duty recreational, social, or athletic activities, whether or not such activity is sponsored by The Company. As set forth below, employees involved in an on-the-job accident or injury may be required to submit to a drug/alcohol test.

Requested Days Off

Employees must submit requests for time off on a Time Off Request form directly to their manager at least 30 days prior to the requested date. Requests should be submitted before the weekly schedule is posted so the Company can consider the request when creating the schedule. The only exception to the 30-day requirement is in the case of a medical or family emergency, in which at least 8 hours' notice is required and supporting documentation (doctor's note, hospital paperwork, etc.) must be provided.

Employees may request sick time orally or in writing. When possible, requests for sick time should include the expected duration of the absence. When the need for sick time is known in advance, such as for a scheduled appointment with a health care provider, the employee must provide advance notice and make a reasonable effort to schedule the time in a way that does not unduly disrupt Company operations. For all other absences, employees must notify their supervisor before the start of the scheduled shift or as soon as practicable.

If an employee uses sick time for more than two consecutive days, the Company may require reasonable documentation to verify that the absence is covered by the policy.

Failure to provide required documentation or failure to report to duty when scheduled without an approved request will be considered an abandonment of the employee's position and duties and will result in termination. A request for time off is a request only, and the Company will make every effort to honor requests to the extent doing so enables the Company to deliver memorable experiences.

Restrictions

Employees may not use accrued paid sick days until the 90th day of employment. Leave under this policy may run concurrently with leave taken under other applicable policies as well as under local, state or federal law, and the Family and Medical Leave Act (FMLA). The Company requires employees to use paid sick leave under this policy in minimum increments of one (1) hour. An employee who uses sick time due to domestic abuse, sexual assault or stalking, may, take unpaid leave as provided in the Company's policy, Leave Due to Domestic Violence, Sexual Assault or Stalking, after accrued paid sick leave has been exhausted, the following individuals are not eligible for sick time: independent contractors, seasonal employees, employees hired for and work terms shorter than six months, and interns.

PTO

Pie Investments ("the Company") provides Paid Time Off (PTO) to eligible salaried full-time employees as a flexible benefit that may be used for vacation, illness, or personal matters. PTO supports rest and work-life balance while ensuring consistent operations across all Pie Investments markets.

Eligibility

- This policy applies only to salaried full-time employees.
- Hourly, part-time, temporary, and contract employees are not eligible to accrue or use PTO.
- PTO begins accruing on the employee's date of hire, but may not be used during the initial 90-day prohibition period.
- Accrual begins immediately upon hire and is calculated each bi-weekly pay period.

Accrual Schedule

PTO accrues based on the employee's continuous service as outlined in the table below:

TENURE TIER	ANNUAL PTO CAP (HOURS)	ACCRUAL FORMULA	ACCRUAL PER PAY PERIOD (BI- WEEKLY)	EQUIVALENT IN WEEKS
0–1 YEAR	40 hours	$40 \div 26$	1.54 hours	1 week
1–5 YEARS	80 hours	$80 \div 26$	3.08 hours	2 weeks
5+ YEARS	120 hours	$120 \div 26$	4.62 hours	3 weeks

Accrual and Carry-Forward Rules

- PTO accrues evenly per pay period until the annual cap is reached.
- Unused PTO does not carry forward into the next calendar year; all balances reset on January 1st.
- PTO accrual pauses during unpaid leaves of absence, suspension, or once the annual maximum cap is reached.
- PTO does not accrue during unpaid status or disciplinary suspension.

Use of PTO

- PTO must be requested and approved in advance through the employee's supervisor or manager.
- Employees may not use PTO during their 90-day prohibition period.

- PTO may not be approved during peak business periods such as holidays, promotional weeks, quarter-end, or grand opening events, unless specifically authorized by senior management.
- All PTO requests will be evaluated and approved based on business needs, staffing levels, and operational requirements.
- Requests for more than five (5) consecutive business days must be submitted at least two (2) weeks in advance.
- PTO may be taken in minimum increments of four (4) hours, unless otherwise approved by management.
- PTO cannot be used to extend employment beyond a resignation or termination date.

Clawback Provision

If an employee uses PTO that has not yet been earned and later resigns or is terminated before those hours are accrued, the Company may recoup the unearned PTO value from the employee's final paycheck where legally permitted. If a deduction is not allowed under applicable state law, the employee agrees to repay the unearned PTO within thirty (30) days of separation.

Payout at Separation

- Upon separation, salaried full-time employees will be paid only for earned and unused PTO accrued through their last day worked.
- PTO taken in advance of accrual is subject to the clawback provision.
- PTO payout will be issued with the final paycheck in accordance with state law.

Administration

- PTO balances will appear on pay statements and in the HR portal.
- Human Resources maintains official records of PTO accrual, adjustments, and use.
- The Company reserves the right to amend or discontinue this policy at any time to reflect changing business needs or legal requirements.

Workplace Policies

Solicitations, Distributions and Use of Bulletin Boards

Employees must not be disturbed while performing your job duties. Inconvenience and disruption, the solicitation or distribution of any literature or written materials within work areas during work time is prohibited. The only exception is charitable campaigns approved in advance by management. Persons not employed by the Company may not solicit Company employees for any purpose on Company premises.

Examples of prohibited types of solicitation include:

- Conducting sports pools and lotteries;
- Selling cosmetics or cookies;
- Distributing leaflets advertising a yard sale.

Bulletin boards maintained by the Company are to be used only for posting or distributing notices containing matters directly concerning Company business and announcements of a business nature that are equally applicable and of interest to employees. All posted material must have authorization from the applicable District Manager. All employees are expected to check these bulletin boards periodically for new and/or updated information, and to follow the rules set forth in all posted notices. Employees may not remove material from or post to the bulletin boards without permission.

Personal Telephone Calls

Cell phones are not to be used or visible while you are working. Phones must be turned off or set to silent during working hours and while you are on the floor. If there is a bona fide emergency that necessitates employees use of their phones, employees must request permission from the manager on duty to take a break to handle their situation. If found using a cellular device in violation of this policy, the employee will be subject to disciplinary action, up to termination.

Company Equipment

Equipment essential to accomplishing job duties is often expensive, may be difficult to replace and is intended for Company use only. When using The Company equipment, employees are expected to exercise care, perform required maintenance, and follow all applicable operating instructions, safety standards, and guidelines. Contact your manager/supervisor for training and guidelines regarding equipment usage.

Please notify your manager/supervisor if any equipment, machines, or tools appear to be damaged, defective, or in need of repair. Prompt reporting of damage, defects, and needed repairs could prevent deterioration of equipment and possible injury to employees or others. The manager/supervisor can answer any questions an employee may have regarding his or her responsibility for maintenance and care of equipment used on the job. The improper, careless, negligent, destructive, or unsafe use or operation of equipment may result in disciplinary action, up to and including termination of employment.

Email and Internet Policy

Use of any Company computer equipment is restricted to Company business only. Any information, documents, data, websites or files viewed, created, stored or accessed via Company computer equipment are the property of the Company. You should not assume that any such information, data, documents, emails or files are confidential or private. As such, employees have no expectation of privacy in accessing email messages, or other use of Company computers and any such use is subject to inspection and/or monitoring by the Company. Inspection may be performed as deemed necessary by the Company without reason or cause and without prior notice to the Employees.

Email and Internet use is limited strictly to business purposes. The Company specifically prohibits the use of computers (including Internet access) and the email system in ways that are inconsistent with the Company's personnel, harassment or Equal Employment Opportunity policies including, but not limited to, use of profane, sexually explicit verbiage, illustrations or pictures, harassing verbiage, illustrations or pictures, ethnic slurs, racial comments or off-color jokes, or anything that could be construed as harassment, discrimination, or showing disrespect for others or another's business. Employees may not access the Internet for non-business purposes, and may certainly not log onto any websites that contain any such material, including (but not limited to) pornographic websites or any websites that contain a discriminatory message or disparage any group. Downloads from the Internet of any kind are prohibited without prior consent.

Employees may not use the computers for personal use or for personal business or commercial use. During any business use of the Internet you are acting as a representative of the Company. As such, Employees should act accordingly so as to not damage the reputation of the Company. Company will not be liable for any personal data stored on company devices however holds the right to report objectionable information discovered during inspections or backend data monitoring activities.

Communications

Successful working conditions and relationships depend upon successful communication. Not only do you need to stay aware of changes in procedures, policies and general information, you also need to communicate your ideas, suggestions, personal goals or problems as they affect your work. All employees are responsible for reading, initialing, and responding to all email communications. In addition to the exchanges of information and expressions of ideas and attitudes which occur daily, make certain you are aware of and utilize all company methods of communication, including this Employee Handbook, bulletin boards, fax logs, emails, discussions with your Manager, memoranda, staff meetings, newsletters, training sessions, etc. You will receive other information booklets, such as your insurance booklets if applicable, from time to time. You may take these booklets home so that your family may know more about your job and your benefits. In addition, you may receive letters from the Company. There is no regular schedule for distribution of this information. The function of each letter is to provide you with interesting news and helpful information that will keep you up-to-date on the events here at the Company. All employees acknowledge that Company may use the personal email address of employees who do not have Company email; for official communications.

Instant Messaging Policy

The Company may establish groups on instant messaging ("IM") platforms (e.g., WhatsApp) in order to communicate with employees. Only a District Manager may create an IM group. Any group created for Company business must only be used for Company business and will be monitored by the administrative staff, including but not limited to the District Manager, Human Resources, and Director of Operations.

Inclement Weather/Store Closings

At times, emergencies such as severe weather, fires, power failures, government action, natural disasters, or other safety issues can disrupt Company operations. In such instances, circumstances may require the Company to close a store.

During inclement weather, all stores should follow the following procedure:

- During rain and/or snow, each store should place 6 wet floor signs out in visible locations including the vestibule, inside the entrance, restroom hallway, in the restroom(s), and by the cash register/pick up station.
- During rain and/or snow, employees should spot check the store every 30 minutes for wet spots on the floor.
- During rain and/or snow, employees should dry mop the floor every 30 to 60 minutes depending on weather conditions.
- During rain and/or snow, no cardboard is to be placed on the ground.
- During the snow season, each store should always have 6 bags of salt, 2 shovels, and 6 wet floor signs available for use.
- During the snow season, each store should place wet floor signs out before the snow begins
- During the snow season, each store should salt the outside areas before the snow begins and the morning of the snowstorm.
- During the snow season, each store should accommodate traffic with pizza orders.

When the Company determines that conditions are so severe as to warrant the complete closing or delay in opening of a store or facility, every effort will be made to notify employees. In lieu of such notification, employees are responsible for confirming such closing by directly contacting their manager/supervisor or Human Resources. If an employee is unable to come to work because of inclement weather, he/she must contact the store manager and the management office as soon as possible via phone call and written correspondence, including text message or email.

Safety Policy/Reporting of Workplace Injuries

The Company is committed to a safe work environment for all employees. Some of the best safety improvement ideas come from you. If you have ideas or suggestions for improved safety, or a particular safety issue or concern, you are encouraged to speak with your manager/supervisor.

Safety on the job requires active participation by all employees and each employee is accountable for complying with all Company safety rules and precautions. You can help assure your own safety by performing your job duties in a safe manner and using common sense to protect yourself, your fellow employees and our customers from injury.

The Company will, at a minimum, comply fully with existing federal, state, and local safety and health laws. Employees are responsible for their own safety and for eliminating hazards that may harm others. Employees must immediately report any unsafe condition or unsafe practices to their Manager or to Human Resources.

All employees are expected to obey safety rules and to exercise caution in all work activities. Employees who violate safety standards, cause hazardous or dangerous situations, or who fail to report or (where appropriate) remedy unsafe situations may be subject to disciplinary action, up to and including termination.

If you sustain an injury on the job, no matter how minor, you must immediately (within 24 hours) report this fact to your manager/supervisor and also in writing to Human Resources. If medical treatment for an on-the-job injury is needed, you will be directed to one of the Company's approved medical clinics. In extreme cases, you may be taken to the nearest emergency medical facility. Please remember that failure to report accidents may jeopardize treatment and insurance coverage, including the loss of worker's compensation benefits. Employees are protected against good faith reports or accidents or injuries. However, filing false claims or reports is prohibited and may subject the employee to disciplinary action up to and including immediate termination. Worker's compensation fraud negatively affects the Company's business operations, job security and employee wages.

Vendor Relationships

Dependable and loyal vendors are critical to our business. Our objective with our vendors should always be to nurture long-lasting and mutually beneficial relationships. Keep the following guidelines in mind whenever dealing with a vendor:

- All vendors should be treated fairly and respectfully.
- All vendors' proprietary information must be held in confidence.
- No personal purchases may be made from vendors.
- No gifts can be accepted or solicited from vendors.

Community Outreach Programs

We encourage community outreach events. However, it is essential that programs are proposed in writing ahead of time and are approved by the employee's supervisor, marketing manager, compliance officer and Director of Operations. After the proposed plan has been reviewed for approval, a written consent will be issued to the employee. Subsequently, the employee will work directly with their supervisor and marketing manager to implement the plan according to the project schedule. Any noncompliance or disregard with respect to following the community outreach procedures may result in disciplinary action, up to and including termination of employment.

Competition

Companies owe to other companies certain duties to compete fairly and to avoid actions that are "unfair trade practices" under the law. As such, we follow certain guidelines to ensure that we compete aggressively but fairly:

- We don't make false or deceptive statements about any of our competitors' products or how they conduct business;
- We don't say anything about a competitor with the intent to damage their business;
- We don't unfairly interfere with any contracts our competitors have with their vendors;
- We don't engage or cooperate in any false or misleading advertising;
- We don't misrepresent ourselves or our employment with The Company to gain access to confidential information regarding a competitor.

Workplace Violence Prevention

The Company is committed to a work environment free from intimidation, threats or violent acts. As such, The Company takes threats of violence, stalking, and engaging in threatening or abusive behavior by or against any employee, customer, vendor, partner or visitor extremely seriously and treats them with zero tolerance.

The Company will, at a minimum, comply fully with applicable federal, state, and local safety and health laws. Employees are responsible for their own safety and for eliminating hazards that may harm others. Employees must immediately report any unsafe activity or condition to their Manager or to Human Resources so that appropriate steps may be taken to ensure the safety of everyone involved.

The Company has adopted the following guidelines to assist its employees in dealing with intimidation, harassment, or other threats of violence or actual violence that may occur during business hours or on its premises.

- All employees, including supervisors, managers, and temporary employees, are to be treated with courtesy and respect at all times;
- Employees must refrain from fighting, "horseplay," or other conduct that may be dangerous to others;
- Any use or possession of weapons, whether legal or illegal, is prohibited while on Company property or while conducting Company business. This includes knives, guns, martial arts weapons, or any other object that is or may be used as a weapon;
- Conduct that threatens, intimidates, or coerces another employee, a customer, or a member of the public at any time, including during break periods, will not be tolerated. This prohibition includes all acts of harassment, including harassment that is based on an individual's sex, race, age, or any other characteristic protected by applicable federal, state, or local law.
- All threats of violence, actual violence or harassment, both direct and indirect, should be reported as soon as possible to your immediate manager/supervisor or Human Resources. This includes threats or harassing actions or conduct by employees, customers, vendors, solicitors, or other members of the public. When reporting a threat of violence or harassment, you should be as specific and detailed as possible.
- All suspicious individuals or activities should also be reported as soon as possible to a manager/supervisor. Do not place yourself in peril. If you see or hear a commotion or disturbance in the store or near the entrance, do not try to intervene or see what is happening.

The Company will investigate all reports of threats of violence, actual violence or harassment and of suspicious individuals or activities. The identity of the individual making a report will be kept confidential to the extent practicable. In order to maintain workplace safety and the integrity of its investigation, The Company may suspend employees, either with or without pay, pending investigation. Anyone determined to be responsible for threats of violence, actual violence, harassment or other conduct that is in violation of this policy will be subject to prompt disciplinary action up to and including termination of employment.

While we do not interfere in our employee's personal lives, if you are the victim of domestic abuse or have been threatened by someone inside or outside the workplace, you must make your manager/supervisor aware of any concerns you have so that we can take appropriate precautions at work to protect you and fellow employees.

The Company encourages employees to bring their disputes or differences with other employees to the attention of their manager/supervisor or Human Resources before the situation escalates into actual violence.

Surveillance Policy

The Company has installed security cameras to monitor activity within company property for the purposes of employee safety, deterring theft or destruction of company assets, and to monitor activity within and/or unauthorized entry onto company property. Surveillance of the company premises is limited to areas and uses that do not violate the standard of a “reasonable expectation to privacy” as defined by law.

Access to information and data obtained from video footage, including live-streaming video, is limited to only select staff. Video monitoring of the company premises will be conducted in a professional, ethical, and legal manner consistent with all existing policies, including the Company’s non-discrimination policy, its sexual harassment policy, and other relevant policies.

Monitoring will not be based on individual characteristics of race, gender, ethnicity, sexual orientation, disability, or other classifications protected by the company’s non-discrimination policy. Information and data obtained through video monitoring will be used exclusively for security, disciplinary/termination, company policy enforcement, and/or law enforcement purposes.

Food Quality and Safety

At the Company, product quality and food safety are a cornerstone of our mission and a commitment we make every day to our customers. Quality embodies our basic philosophy of doing business. We must therefore exceed our customers' expectations every day in each of our stores by serving the best food & beverage every time it is ordered.

We continually monitor our products and services and work hard to improve them. We expect all of our employees to assist in this process by reporting anything that might compromise our quality.

Below are your responsibilities in serving safe food to every guest:

Learn and follow the Company’s food safety practices and procedures.

Recognize when improper food safety procedures occur and correct yourself and your fellow employees. Do not cut corners or allow others to take shortcuts, even when you are busy.

Use only approved products received from the approved vendors.

Our distributors have met stringent qualifications to assure only the highest quality and safest food products for our customers.

Deliver safe food to our customers.

- Follow all hand washing procedures as specified in the Hand Washing job aid.
- Wash hands when preparing and serving food – change them often and as needed.
- Take the temperature of food at all stages of production.
- Look for quality identifiers, appropriate temperatures and proper presentation.
- If in doubt of any food product's safety or quality, throw it out and make a record on the waste chart.

Do not hide work-related illness or injury.

Report every work-related illness or injury, no matter how minor, manager/supervisor or Human Resources immediately.

Complete the food safety documents accurately and properly.

Good record keeping helps us monitor and continuously improve the effectiveness of our food safety programs.

Be truthful and forthcoming with health department officials.

- These officials are here to help all of us ensure that we serve safe food to our guests.
- Failure to keep the store up to standards and failing health inspections are grounds for termination. If a store is inspected by a health department official, the store manager must present the inspection report to the management office before the end of the day of the inspection.

Serving and Packaging guidelines

- NEVER sell stale products. Remove stale products from the case. REMEMBER: IF YOU WOULDN'T BUY IT- DON'T SELL IT.
- KEEP YOUR HANDS WASHED. Always wash your hands after using the restroom, smoking, touching your hair/face, eating, sneezing or coughing or any other activity that necessitates cleansing. If you are using latex gloves, change them frequently; do not touch money or any other unsanitary surfaces/objects with your gloves and then handle food.
- Follow requirements for covering hair.
- Never touch the product with your hands in the sales area. Food should never be handled with bare unwashed hands at any time.
- Take all Papa John's from the rear of the display case.
- Fill in empty spaces with back-ups from the kitchen whenever possible.

The specified guidelines are for the safety of our customers. The guidelines must be followed to precision. Failure to follow the guidelines may result in termination.

Inspections

The Company reserves the right to conduct searches without notice of any employee while performing services for the Company, and to search property, equipment and storage areas, including, but not limited to clothing, personal effects or Company owned property.

In addition, for security purposes and based on reasonable suspicion, inspections and/or searches may also occur of any other property on Company premises, including, but not limited to, purses, briefcases, packages, and vehicles. The employee acknowledges that bringing any property and/or vehicle onto Company property constitutes consent to the search of such property and/or vehicle. These inspections and searches may occur at any time without prior notice. Failure to comply with this policy may result in disciplinary action up to and including unpaid suspension and/or termination of employment.

Customer Incidents or Accidents

Please follow these guidelines surrounding guest incidents or accidents:

- DO immediately ask the manager/supervisor on duty to take control of the situation.
- DO ask the customer if they need medical attention. If necessary, call an ambulance, call a cab, etc.
- DON'T (ever!) transport a customer if medical care is required.
- DON'T assign blame for the incident. This is for someone else to decide.
- DO get all the facts surrounding the incident right away. Take note of the time of the incident, the location, the witnesses, the course of events, etc.
- DO save whatever caused the incident. If there was an alleged object in the customer's food, bag it and save it. If there was a piece of furniture, equipment or service ware involved in the incident, save it in a safe place.
- Report the incident to the manager/supervisor on duty and to Human Resources immediately.

Response to Robbery or Another Threatening Incident

While we hope that you will not have to address the situation of a store robbery or threatening incident, we include these suggestions from law enforcement:

During the Robbery

- Remain calm. Most robbers do not wish to harm their victims. They are only interested in getting money or property. The calmer you are, the less chance there is of the robber becoming agitated or dangerous. This also increases your chances of getting a more accurate description of the robber and being of greater assistance in the robber's apprehension.
- Do not argue, fight, surprise or attempt to use weapons against a robber. The robber has already taken a major risk by entering your store and is usually as frightened as you are. Because of this, additional provocation on your part could make the situation worse. Therefore, give the robber exactly what he or she wants and do it quickly. Don't take unnecessary chances with your life.
- While you should cooperate with robbers, don't volunteer any assistance.
- Notice the type and description of any weapons used. Glance at the weapon only long enough to identify it. Look at the robber from then on. Make no sudden moves and don't be heroic.
- If it can be done safely, observe the direction the thief takes in leaving the scene. Where a vehicle is involved, concentrate on the make, model, year, color, license plate number and issuing state.

During or After the Robbery or Threatening Incident

- Activate the silent alarm by hitting the emergency button on the alarm panel as soon as you can safely do so.

- Call at 911 as soon as you can safely do so. Explain the situation and they will tell you exactly what you need to do. Plan accordingly so that the store is not left unattended at any time.
- Lock all the doors and allow no one in. Ask the witnesses to remain on the premises until the police arrive. Do not touch anything the robber may have touched as their fingerprints will assist the detectives in the case.
- Do not discuss what happened with any other witnesses. Your own impressions should be kept untainted until you have talked with authorities.
- Write down as many details as possible on paper so that you can accurately tell the police as much information as possible.

Finally, remember that robbery response strategies require planning and coordination between employees and management. Give some thought on how you might react in a robbery situation and discuss your concerns with co-workers and employers. Common sense, caution, and adherence to established policies and procedures can reduce the amount of money stolen and minimize the chance for injury and loss of life.

Deliveries

The back door to the shop is used for receiving deliveries. It is also used for taking out trash. This door should remain locked at all times. It is not to be used as an entrance or exit. Following these procedures are imperative. They exist for your safety as well as the safety of those around you.

- When receiving deliveries, please follow the subsequent procedures:
- Be sure that you receive a receipt for all the items paid for upon delivery.
- Be sure to receive a credit memo for all items taken out of the store.
- Nothing is to be given to the employees or managers of other locations without consent of the manager of your store.
- No payment is to be made to anyone unless approved by the manager.
- When signing for deliveries, make certain that all products you are signing for have been delivered in good and acceptable condition.

Driver Safety and Accident Reporting Policy

Pie Investments ("the Company") is committed to maintaining a safe and secure working environment for all employees and customers. This Driver Safety and Accident Reporting Policy outlines the safety standards and operating expectations for all employees who operate a vehicle for Company business.

Scope

This policy applies to all employees who operate a Company-owned, rented, or personal vehicle for business purposes, including delivery drivers, managers, supervisors, and field support personnel. Compliance with this policy is a condition of employment and continued driving privileges.

Driver Responsibilities

- Possess a valid driver's license and maintain an acceptable driving record at all times.

- Observe all traffic laws and operate vehicles safely and courteously.
- Refrain from the use of handheld mobile devices, texting, or any form of distracted driving.
- Perform pre-trip vehicle inspections to ensure the vehicle is safe to operate (tires, brakes, lights, and signals).
- Immediately report any unsafe vehicle conditions to their supervisor.
- Use seat belts at all times and require all passengers to do the same.
- Never drive under the influence of alcohol, drugs, or any medication that may impair driving ability.
- Follow all Company delivery procedures and route safety protocols.

Vehicle Use and GPS Tracking

- All Company-owned and delivery vehicles are equipped with GPS tracking systems to ensure employee safety, accurate delivery routing, and loss prevention.
- Employees are prohibited from disabling or tampering with GPS systems.
- GPS data may be reviewed to verify delivery times, driving behavior, and compliance with Company policies.
- Vehicles may not be used for personal errands or non-business purposes.

Accidents and Incident Reporting

- Stop immediately and ensure personal safety and the safety of others.
- Contact emergency services (911) if anyone is injured or there is property damage.
- Notify your manager or supervisor immediately, followed by a report to Human Resources.
- Complete an Accident Report Form within 24 hours, even if the incident appears minor.
- Do not admit fault or discuss the accident with anyone other than law enforcement, your supervisor, or the Company's insurance representative. Failure to report accidents promptly may result in disciplinary action.

Robbery or Threatening Situations

- In the event of a robbery or threatening situation, remain calm and do not resist.
- Comply with demands and avoid confrontation to reduce the risk of injury.
- Once safe, immediately contact law enforcement and your supervisor.
- Secure the scene, avoid discussing details with others, and complete a written incident report as soon as possible.

Deposits and Cash Handling Safety

- All night deposits must be made by two employees whenever possible.
- Avoid establishing a predictable deposit routine; vary the time and route each day.
- Never carry Company funds while off the clock or when not assigned to make a deposit.
- Report any suspicious activity immediately to your supervisor or Loss Prevention.

Accident Review and Disciplinary Action

The Company reserves the right to review all accidents involving Company vehicles or employees driving on Company business. Disciplinary action may be taken if negligence, policy violation, or unsafe behavior is found to be the cause of the accident.

- Retraining and safety counseling;
- Temporary or permanent removal from driving duties;
- Written warning, suspension, or termination depending on severity.

Acknowledgment

All employees authorized to drive on Company business must sign the Driver Safety and Accident Reporting acknowledgment form before operating a vehicle. By signing, the employee confirms they have read, understood, and agree to comply with this policy.

Employee Conduct & Disciplinary Action

Failure to comply with any of the policies below may result in disciplinary action, up to and including termination of employment.

Appearance and Hygiene

- Crew members shall come to work fully bathed, free of body odor (including , and in a clean and complete uniform.
- All crewmembers must wash their hands at least once every hour, as well as at the beginning of a shift, after using the restroom, and upon returning from a break before resuming work.
- No excessive or offensive odors, perfume, cologne, or makeup.
- Hair must be clean, neatly trimmed and combed or styled, and pulled back if length is below the top of the shoulders. Shaggy, uncombed hair regardless of length is not permitted. Sideburns, mustaches and beards must be neatly trimmed. Styles of facial hair are unprofessional and not permitted.
- Jewelry must be simple – no large dangling jewelry pieces. No more than two piercings per ear. Tongue piercings are not allowed. Nose and eyebrow piercings, if present, cannot exceed two in number.
- Tattoos that may be considered by our guests to be offensive, such as depictions of violence, foul language, discriminatory imagery, and nudity must not be visible during work hours.
- Fingernails must be neatly trimmed and clean at all times. Due to safety hazards, nail polish is not to be worn while you are working due to possible chipping.
- All crewmembers must use wax paper when picking up Papa John's; never pick up Papa John's with your bare hands.
- All crew members must wear gloves when working at the sandwich station.
- Failure to comply with any of the above policies may result in disciplinary action, up to and including termination of employment.

Dress Code

The Company prides itself on appearance; therefore, you are expected to be neat, clean and dressed professionally and appropriately. Appearance at work should reflect our quality and service values. All employees will be issued one complete standard uniform upon hiring. This will include: a Uniform T-shirt, Hat, and apron. Employees are responsible for supplying their own Khaki Pants/shorts, and black belt, if necessary. If you do not show up to work in a complete uniform, you will be sent home. The following are our clothing requirements for team members:

- Papa Johns uniform shirts with khaki pants/shorts.

- Non-Slip flat shoes
- Hat/Apron
- Name Tag

*Additional aprons and caps/visors may be purchased at a cost to the team member Below, you are provided with a few extra guidelines with regards to acceptable dress code.

- All uniform components must be clean, wrinkle free, well-fitting and not ripped, torn, or faded.
- Hats/visors must be worn facing front. Managers are only required to wear a hat/visor if they are working in the position of a crew person. All hair must be pulled into a ponytail or away from your face and tucked neatly under your hat or worn in a hair net. Men with facial hair must shave their beards. The only facial hair allowed is a small mustache and goatee neatly trimmed.
- Shirts may be tucked or worn out neatly
- During certain promotions and seasons, crew people might be asked to wear promotional tee shirts. If there aren't enough promotional tee shirts for all crew members to wear, then no one should wear the promotional tee shirts.
- Baggy pants or jeans with rips or tears ARE NOT ALLOWED!
- Belt must be worn on the waist.
- Shoes must be closed toed and closed heel with a non-slip rubber sole.

Appropriate Behavior When on the Clock

- Obscene language, swearing, loud talking, horseplay and reporting to work under the influence of alcohol and/or drugs is PROHIBITED. Coats, sweaters with pockets, and purses are not to be brought to the sales area. Never sit in the seating area in uniform.
- There are to be no personal calls while on the clock. All cell phones must be kept on vibrate or silent while you are on the clock.
- If you are not on the clock or in uniform, you are not allowed behind the counter.
- There is to be no sitting on the counters--period! Gum chewing is prohibited while on duty.
- No one is allowed behind the counter or in the storeroom without the permission of the manager. If you wish to purchase something, you may not ring the item yourself. You MUST have another crew member ring up your purchase. You are prohibited from opening the cash register when not on duty. If you make a purchase while on the clock, you must attach the receipt to it. If you are eating, please do so in the back. DO NOT eat in the front of the store. If any of your family members or friends come to the store to make a purchase, you may NOT wait on them. You must have another crew member ring up their items.
- All job assignments must be completed in a timely manner.
- All daily logs and production sheets are to be completed on a daily basis.
- The store must be clean and presentable at all times. NO EXCEPTIONS! Even if there are no customers in the store, there is always work to be done.
- Work clean at all times and the cleaning chores will be kept to a minimum.

- Each shift must complete their assigned cleaning list as well as the assigned extra cleaning responsibilities. Leave the place the way you want to find it.

Work Rules

To ensure quality operations and provide the best possible work environment, we expect you to follow rules of conduct designed to protect the interests and safety of all employees. While it is not possible to list all behaviors that are considered unacceptable, the following are examples for which an employee may be disciplined, up to and including termination:

- Unlawful discrimination against other employees or customers
- Sexual or other unlawful or unwelcome harassment
- Boisterous or disruptive activity in the workplace
- Insubordination or other disrespectful conduct
- Constant arguing, or fighting or threatening violence in the workplace;
- Lack of cooperation with other employees;
- Negligence or improper conduct leading to damage of employer or customer owned property
- Theft or inappropriate removal/possession of another's property
- Misstating inventory
- Excessive cash overages or shortages
- Excessive item deletions, refunds, and discounts
- Falsification or altering of timekeeping records or other financial information
- Unauthorized absence during a scheduled shift
- Excessive absenteeism or tardiness, any absence without notice
- Smoking on Company property
- Working under the influence of alcohol or illegal drugs
- Possession, distribution, sale, transfer or use of alcohol or illegal drugs in the workplace, while on duty or while operating Company-owned vehicles or equipment
- Possession of dangerous or unauthorized materials such as explosives or firearms
- Failure to fully cooperate in any Company investigation.
- Failure to follow the Dress Code while on duty
- Unsatisfactory performance or conduct
- Unauthorized use of telephones, or other Company-owned equipment
- Violation of Company policies

Attendance and Punctuality

Punctuality and regular attendance are key elements of satisfactory job performance and serve as an indication of the employee's commitment and interest in his or her job. All employees are expected to be on time and show up for work. Regular attendance and punctuality are considered essential functions of an employee's job and are necessary for the efficient operation of the store. Hourly non-exempt staff, including but not limited to, managers, shift leaders, and crew members, must be present and conducting work related duties when they are scheduled. "Time worked", and thus the time compensated for, is all the time actually spent performing assigned duties.

Salaried exempt staff, including but not limited to District Managers, are required to visit each of their stores at least 5-6 times for 1-2 hours each visit during the 7-day work week. For both hourly non-exempt staff and salaried exempt staff, operational demands may necessitate variations in starting and ending times, as well as variations in the total hours needed to work each week.

Failure to notify the Company of your absence in accordance with this policy may be deemed job abandonment and result in termination, at the sole discretion of the Company. Should the employee wish to continue working, they may request to be reinstated in writing to their supervisor and Human Resources. The employee's request will be taken into consideration. If accepted, the employee will be required to enroll in the reinstatement process with Human Resources and subject to other conditions of reinstatement that may be imposed.

Leaves of Absence

The Company offers certain leave of absence benefits. Some of the information applicable to these regulations and guidelines is included in this Manual. If you have further questions, contact your manager/supervisor. In the event that you are considering a leave, it is your responsibility to notify your manager/supervisor in order to obtain prior approval from Human Resources.

The Company will continue all insurance benefits for eligible employees while on any approved leave of absence. Employees are responsible for continued payment of their portion of all insurance premiums while on leave. Failure to pay your premiums will cause benefits to be terminated back to the date of the last payment and you will incur all claim costs.

Whenever possible, employees must request a leave of at least thirty (30) days prior to your leave begin date.

Handling Cash

Employees of the Company do not have authorization to remove money from the Company's property (cash register, drop, safe, etc.). If an employee removes money from the Company without written and verbal requests as well as written and verbal authorizations from their supervisor, the employee is subject to termination as well as civil and criminal charges being filed against them. Always follow the "pay when served" policy.

- Do not open change drawers unless it is needed.
- All sales are rung up at the time of the purchase.
- We generally accept payment only by cash, credit card, or gift card. A manager must pre-approve any acceptance of checks or traveler checks.
- Unless you have management approval, do not accept any bills larger than $20
- Inform the customer that we cannot break $50's or $100's. Please use a counterfeit pencil for all large bills.
- You must issue a receipt from all sales that you ring up.

- In cases where you ring up a credit card transaction over $20, you need to check the customer's photo ID and keep a receipt that is signed by the customer
- Cashiers are responsible for the cash in their drawer. Any problems with cash control may result in termination. Excessive shortages will be considered grounds for termination. If you are careful in making changes, there will be no problem.
- Beware of short-change artists. They will attempt to confuse you in order to get extra money back in change.

Cash Shortage Policy:

- $1.00 per shift maximum
- $9.00 on one shift will result in 1-day suspension.
- $10.00 and over on one shift may result in termination,
- $30.00 accumulated in a month will result in termination.

Procedure

- When you start your shift, it is your responsibility to count your drawer.
- Money may be counted only on the prep station in front of the security camera.
- During your shift, for every transaction you make, you must keep a receipt. For credit card transactions over $20, you must keep a receipt that is signed by the customer
- Registers are only to be opened when you ring up a sale.
- When making change, you must leave the bill on the shelf above the drawer until the transaction is complete.
- At the end of your shift, your manager will count the drawer. If there is a shortage of greater than $1.00, you will be subject to discipline in accordance with Company policy.
- If for any reason you cannot count your drawer, please notify your manager.
- Verify your drawers at the beginning of your shift. Always verify the change fund.
- All sales are rung up at the time of the purchase.
- Registers may be opened only to ring a sale, and then closed immediately.
- Place all bills in the same direction; face up, in the register drawer.

Social and Recreational Activities

The Company may sponsor formal or informal social and recreational activities throughout the year for its employees. Employee attendance at these events is purely voluntary, and neither required nor expected as part of employment. By participating in the Company's social and recreational activities, an employee agrees to assume all of the risks of participation in these activities including, for example, any injury to an employee or damage to property caused in whole or in part by the negligence or other acts of an employee's co-workers or the Company.

At some of these events, the Company provides alcoholic beverages. An employee must be 21 years of age or older to consume alcoholic beverages, and the Company reserves the right to refuse to allow anyone to consume alcohol.

It is an employee's responsibility to control or limit his or her consumption of alcoholic beverages and his or her behavior at Company-sponsored events. It is impossible for the Company to supervise or oversee everyone's alcohol consumption or other conduct at social events, and the Company expressly does not take responsibility for doing so. Therefore, the Company expects employees who chose to drink alcoholic beverages to do so responsibly and in moderation.

Social Media Policy

Pie Investments ("the Company") recognizes that employees may engage in social media activities that include online discussions, posts, or sharing of content related to their personal or professional lives. This policy is intended to protect the Company's reputation, confidential information, and compliance with brand standards while respecting employees' rights to personal expression.

Scope

This policy applies to all employees, contractors, and managers who use any form of electronic communication—whether on or off duty—including but not limited to:

- Social networking sites (e.g., Facebook, Instagram, X/Twitter, TikTok, LinkedIn)
- Video and photo sharing sites (e.g., YouTube, Snapchat, Reels)
- Blogs, forums, and community pages
- Messaging apps and group chats used for Company or store-related discussions

General Guidelines

Maintain professionalism and avoid any online behavior that could harm the Company's image or relationships with customers, vendors, or the community. Protect confidential and proprietary information, including but not limited to store performance, sales data, employee information, customer details, and marketing or promotional strategies. Refrain from posting Company photos, videos, or content (including delivery images or in-store footage) without written management authorization. Never speak on behalf of the Company or imply that personal views represent official Company positions unless specifically designated to do so.

Avoid discriminatory, harassing, or inflammatory statements regarding coworkers, supervisors, customers, vendors, or competitors. Use personal social media responsibly during work hours; social media activity must not interfere with performance, productivity, or operational focus.

Brand and Franchise Representation

As a franchisee of Papa John's, Pie Investments is required to maintain brand integrity in all public communications. Employees must adhere to the following:

- Do not create or manage any social media account using the Papa John's® or Pie Investments name, logo, or likeness without express written approval from the Company's Marketing or Human Resources Department.
- Any online advertising, fundraising, or community outreach using Company or brand imagery must be pre-approved by management.
- Posts that feature Company stores, vehicles, uniforms, or logos must accurately reflect the brand's values of professionalism, quality, and respect.

Confidentiality and Privacy

Employees must safeguard confidential information and avoid discussing internal matters publicly.

Examples include:

- Financial, operational, or sales data; Staffing decisions or internal investigations;
- Vendor pricing or contract details; Customer complaints or incidents not publicly disclosed.
- The Company's confidentiality and non-disclosure obligations apply equally to online activity.

Violations of this policy—including the disclosure of confidential information, brand misrepresentation, or harassment—may result in disciplinary action, up to and including termination of employment. Serious breaches may also result in legal action if proprietary or protected information is compromised.

Employee Acknowledgment

By continuing employment with Pie Investments, employees acknowledge that they have read and understood this Social Media and Online Conduct Policy and agree to comply with its terms as a condition of employment.

Disciplinary Action/Termination

The Company's progressive discipline policy and procedures are designed to provide a structured corrective action process to improve and prevent a recurrence of undesirable employee behavior and performance issues.

Outlined below are the steps of the Company's progressive discipline policy and procedure. The Company reserves the right to combine or skip steps, depending on the facts of each situation and the nature of the offense. The level of disciplinary intervention may also vary. Some of the factors that will be considered are whether the offense is repeated despite coaching, counseling or training, the employee's work record, and the impact the conduct and performance issues have on the organization.

You are not required to sign disciplinary notices; however the Company requests your acknowledgement in writing that you have received the notice. With or without your signature, the notice will be sent to your email address on file. In addition, the disciplinary notice will be distributed to the employee when paychecks are being distributed. The employee is required to acknowledge that they have received the disciplinary notice by signing the receipt form provided with the employee's paycheck.

If you disagree with the write-up that you receive, you may submit a written escalation to Human Resources via fax, email, or mail. We request you do so within 30 days of receipt of your write-up. Human Resources will reach out to you to review your disciplinary notice and escalation within 3-5 business days.

Disciplinary Procedure

Step 1: Counseling and verbal warning

Step 1 creates an opportunity for the immediate supervisor to schedule a meeting with an employee to bring attention to the existing performance, conduct or attendance issue. The supervisor should discuss with the employee the nature of the problem or the violation of company policies and procedures. The supervisor is expected to clearly describe expectations and steps the employee must take to improve performance or resolve the problem.

Step 2: Written warning

Although the Company hopes that the employee will promptly correct any performance, conduct or attendance issues that were identified in Step 1, the Company recognizes that this may not always occur. The Step 2 written warning involves more formal documentation of the performance, conduct or attendance issues and consequences. During Step 2, the immediate supervisor and a division manager or Human Resources will meet with the employee to review any additional incidents or information about the performance, conduct or attendance issues as well as any prior relevant corrective action plans. Management will outline the consequences for the employee of his or her continued failure to meet performance or conduct expectations. A warning outlining that the employee may be subject to additional discipline up to and including termination if immediate and sustained corrective action is not taken may also be included in the written warning.

Step 3: Suspension and final written warning

There may be performance, conduct or safety incidents so problematic and harmful that the most effective action may be the temporary removal of the employee from the workplace. When immediate action is necessary, the immediate supervisor may suspend the employee pending the results of an investigation. Suspensions that are recommended as part of the normal progression of this progressive discipline policy and procedure are subject to approval from a manager and Human Resources.

Depending on the seriousness of the infraction, the employee may be suspended without pay in full-day increments consistent with federal, state and local wage-and-hour employment laws. Non- Exempt/hourly employees may not substitute or use an accrued paid vacation or sick day in lieu of the unpaid suspension. Due to Fair Labor Standards Act (FLSA) compliance issues, unpaid suspension of salaried/exempt employees is reserved for serious workplace safety or conduct issues. Human Resources will provide guidance so that the discipline is administered without jeopardizing the FLSA exemption status. Pay may be restored to the employee if an investigation of the incident or infraction absolves the employee.

Any employee who receives two (2) written disciplinary warnings or a suspension within a 12-month period will automatically be placed into a 90-day Prohibition Period to re-evaluate continued employment. Refer to the Prohibition period policy.

Step 4: Recommendation for termination of employment

The last and most serious step in the progressive discipline procedure is a recommendation to terminate employment. Generally, the Company will try to exercise the progressive nature of this policy by first providing warnings, a final written warning or suspension from the workplace before proceeding to a recommendation to terminate employment. However, the Company reserves the right to combine and skip steps depending on the circumstances of each situation and the nature of the offense. Furthermore, employees may be terminated without prior notice or disciplinary action.

Termination of Employment

Return of Property

Upon voluntary or involuntary termination of employment, employees are responsible for returning ALL Company' property in their possession or control, or issued to them, including the following:

- Credit cards
- Equipment
- Identification badges
- Keys
- Computers and Communication devices
- Uniforms
- Employee & Company Manuals

Where permitted by applicable laws, Company may take legal action deemed appropriate to recover or protect unreturned Company property.

Employment Termination

We request that employees who wish to resign their positions notify the Company of their anticipated departure date and go over the "check out" procedures at separation (conversion of insurance, return of property, delivery of final paycheck, etc.) with Human Resources. Although advance notice is not required, the Company appreciates at least two-weeks written notice of resignation from all employees. Company will determine at that time whether to accept the two-week notice or move for immediate dismissal. Any salary or wages that could have been earned during the notice period may or may not be paid, at the Company's discretion, if the Company opts for immediate dismissal.

Employee benefits will be affected by employment termination in the following manner: All accrued, vested benefits that are due and payable at termination will be paid in accordance with applicable law. Some benefits may be continued at the employee's expense if the employee so chooses and appropriately notifies the Company. The employee will be notified in writing of the benefits that may be continued and of the terms, conditions, and limitations of such continuance.

All employees who are terminated involuntarily will receive a final paycheck in accordance with state law. This paycheck will include unpaid time owed for work performed less any withholdings and applicable deductions.

Re-hires

Former employees who apply and are eligible for re-employment will be evaluated on the same basis as other applicants. To be considered eligible for rehire, former employees must be qualified and must have been in good standing and maintained satisfactory performance and attendance at the time of termination. Should an employee apply for rehire, they will need to contact the District Manager of the store and Human Resources via a written request.

Any questions, comments, or concerns regarding this Employee Manual may be addressed by contacting the manager or human resources department.

Immediate Termination Security Violations

- Leaving the safe open.
- Leaving the safe on day-lock.

- Failure to make a daily deposit.
- Using any security code, other than the one assigned to you, for store entry or closing.
- Unauthorized person(s) in store before opening or after closing.
- Giving employees keys to locked areas (after prior warning by supervisor).
- Giving employees the code and/or access to the safe.
- Falsifying over/short moneys (i.e. taking money from or adding money to daily deposit).
- Borrowing money from the safe or change fund.
- Failure to complete shift change procedures (after prior warning by supervisor).
- Using ID other than your own (after prior warning by supervisor).
- Failure to open store on scheduled shift (after prior warning by supervisor).
- Falsification or manipulation of the store's inventory.
- Time clock manipulation. Managers may not edit their own time clock entries. If there is a timecard or clock in/clock out error, it must be changed by another member of the management team.
- Any Gross Violation from the Disciplinary Actions section of this handbook.

Alarm System Policy

The Company will provide unique alarm codes to the managers of each store as well as employees who open the store. Any company employee who is assigned a code will be responsible for preserving the confidentiality of the code. If the code is circulated without written authorization, this is considered a breach in policy. Use of another employee's code is strictly prohibited. If someone else obtains this code and misuses it, the person authorized to hold the code is responsible. Misuse of the code is considered an endangerment to company property and other crew members' safety and will result in termination as well as a possible civil and criminal lawsuit filed against them.

Keyholder Policy

The Company will provide keys to some employees. If an employee loses their key or if it is misused or circulated without proper written authorization, the employee will be disciplined and possibly terminated. The Company will expect the employee to pay the cost of having a locksmith replace the lock as well as having a new set of keys made. Misuse of the keys is considered an endangerment to company property and other crew members' safety and will result in disciplinary action.

Store Closing Policy

Closers, managers, and District Managers are responsible for ensuring that the closing procedures are followed precisely.

Daily Deposits

District Managers and managers are responsible for daily deposits being made. When making deposits, employees must be accompanied by another crew member. When the deposits are made, it is the person who is making the deposit's responsibility to document the deposit precisely and to follow the proper reporting procedures. This includes attaching the deposit receipt received from the bank to the carbon copy of the deposit slip located in the deposit book. It is the responsibility of the manager to let their supervisor know the deposit was made and it is the District Manager's responsibility to notify the office administrators that the deposit has been made. A message from each District Managers should be sent daily with regards to all their stores. On bank holidays and bank closing, District Managers are responsible for collecting the money and bringing it to the office no later than 4PM.

Physical Closing/Alarm System

On a store level, it is the responsibility of the manager, closer, and District Manager to ensure that the windows are locked, the bathrooms are empty, all the money from the cash register drawer is out of the drawer and is dropped in the safe, the drawer remains open and a cup is placed in the drawer, and the security system is armed. When the system is armed, it is the manager's responsibility to tell their District Manager and/or Loss Prevention via a written notice (text on the admin approved group is fine) that the system is armed. Failure to arm the system is an endangerment to crew and company policy and will result in disciplinary action. Communication is key and it is everyone's responsibility to ensure the safety of their fellow team member's and the Company's property. If someone is unable to arm the system, please contact Loss Prevention via phone at 215-422- 3049. Failure to do so will result in disciplinary action.

Telephone Policy

- Do not give out the personal phone numbers of any employees.
- The store number is for business only. Personal use is limited to emergencies ONLY. Manager's permission must be granted before any employee uses the Company telephone for a non-business use. No other phone calls are to be made or received. Please advise your family and friends of this policy. Always answer the telephone by saying, "Thank you for calling Company, (your name) speaking, may I help you?"
- All business calls, orders or complaints should be referred to the manager or in the event of his absence, the shift supervisor.
- Always take a message and write down the name and the telephone number of the caller with the time and day they called.

Marketing Telephone Calls

You may from time to time receive telephone calls from marketers of products or services asking you to buy a product or service or to make a donation. You are not authorized to make purchases of products or services or to make donations. Inform the marketer that: "I am not authorized to make purchases on the Company's behalf". Violation of this policy will result in discipline, and potential termination of your employment at the Company.

Telephone Orders

After clocking in, be sure to check the back-room bulletin board to see if any orders must be ready during your shift. If you take an order over the telephone, obtain the following information:

- person's name
- telephone number
- date and time needed
- the order price

Customer Service Policies

Customers are to be served as quickly as possible with a proper greeting such as, "thank you" and "have a nice day (evening)". Customers must be served in order. Be observant, so you will know who is next.

If you cannot serve a customer right away, be sure to acknowledge the customer and tell them you will be with them very soon.

- Always ask the manager or another employee when you need help. Do not let the customers wait.
- Always approach take-out customers with a box in hand.
- Always have a smile and a friendly attitude towards your customers , but do not get into long conversations with them.
- Suggestive selling is part of your job! You were hired to be a salesperson. Even if you are not a cashier, you will be placed from time to time in a position where you will be selling. Always make an effort to sell the customer something additional, such as sides or sodas. Try this suggestions:
- "Would you like to add some wings or a soda?"

Customer Complaints

There are two types of complaints:

Product Complaints

Service Complaints

Company policy is to replace any product that is unsatisfactory. If the customer wishes, we will refund his/her money for the unconsumed product. In any event, there are five simple rules to follow when handling customer complaints:

- Offer to replace product/refund money
- Remain cheerful and pleasant.
- Remember: 'The Customer is Always Right'
- End on a positive note
- If the customer persists in his complaint, call the manager

Always handle the complaints to the customer's satisfaction. Serious complaints should be referred to the manager. If the manager is not present, ask the person to leave their name and number to allow the manager to follow-up. The Company withholds the right to investigate serious customer complaints and take disciplinary action as needed. Depending on the Company's findings and the seriousness of the infraction, any employees who are the cause of a serious customer complaint will be subject to discipline up to and including termination.

State Addenda

Virginia Addendum

The following provisions apply to employees working in the Commonwealth of Virginia and supplement the general policies in this Handbook.

Virginia Human Rights Act

The Company complies with the Virginia Human Rights Act, which prohibits discrimination or harassment based on race, color, religion, national origin, sex (including pregnancy, childbirth, or related conditions), age, marital status, disability, sexual orientation, gender identity, or veteran status.

Smoking in the Workplace

Smoking and vaping are prohibited inside all Company buildings, vehicles, and within 25 feet of entrances or exits, in compliance with Virginia's Clean Indoor Air Act. Employees who wish to smoke may do so only in designated outdoor areas.

Family and Medical Leave

Employees in Virginia are covered by federal Family and Medical Leave Act (FMLA) provisions, as described in this handbook, which allow up to 12 weeks of unpaid leave for qualifying medical or family reasons.

Maryland Addendum

This Addendum applies to employees working in Maryland. Pie Investments provides earned sick and safe leave in accordance with the Maryland Healthy Working Families Act.

Employees working in Maryland accrue earned sick and safe leave at a rate required by Maryland law, generally one hour of leave for every thirty (30) hours worked. Accrued but unused leave may be carried over to the following year as required, subject to the limits and maximums permitted under the Maryland Healthy Working Families Act. Employees may use earned sick and safe leave for their own illness or medical needs, for the care of a family member, or for reasons related to domestic violence, sexual assault, or stalking, consistent with Maryland's definitions and requirements.

Use of Leave

Employees should notify their supervisor as soon as practicable when leave is needed. The Company may request reasonable documentation for absences of more than two (2) consecutive scheduled shifts, consistent with Maryland law.

Salaried Employees

Salaried employees will use their existing PTO accrual bank when taking sick time for any reason covered under Maryland law.

ACKNOWLEDGMENT OF RECEIPT OF THE PIE INVESTMENTS EMPLOYEE HANDBOOK

I acknowledge that I have received the Pie Investments Employee Handbook (“the Handbook”) and understand that violations of the policies contained in the Handbook, including but not limited to the Company’s anti-harassment policy, code of ethics, confidentiality requirements, safety rules, operational procedures, attendance standards, and disciplinary policies, may result in disciplinary action, up to and including termination of employment.

I further understand that the information contained in the Handbook represents guidelines for the Company and that Pie Investments reserves the right to modify, amend, or terminate any policy, procedure, or employee benefit program at any time, with or without notice, except as limited by applicable law.

I understand that the Handbook does not constitute a written or implied contract of employment. My employment with Pie Investments is at-will, which means that either the Company or I may terminate the employment relationship at any time, with or without cause or notice. I further understand that no manager, supervisor, or representative of the Company, other than the Chief Executive Officer, has any authority to enter into an agreement guaranteeing employment for any specific period of time or on any specific terms, and only if such agreement is in writing and signed by the CEO.

I acknowledge that it is my responsibility to read the Handbook in its entirety and to comply with all policies, including but not limited to those governing:

- Code of Ethics & Business Conduct
- Confidentiality & Non-Disclosure
- Equal Employment Opportunity & Anti-Harassment
- Workplace Violence and Drug-Free Workplace Standards
- Employment Practices, Attendance & Punctuality
- Timekeeping, Payroll, Overtime & PTO Rules
- Safety & Security Requirements
- Driver Safety and Operational Procedures
- Food Quality & Safety Requirements
- Cash Handling and Financial Controls
- Social Media and Electronic Communication Policies
- State-Specific Addenda (VA, MD, DC as applicable)

I understand that if I have any questions regarding the interpretation or application of any policy contained in the Handbook, I should direct those questions to my supervisor or Human Resources.

Employee’s Signature

Date

Print Full Name

Store # / Location

Arbitration Agreement Acknowledgment

In consideration of my employment with Pie Investments Management LLC and its affiliated entities ("the Company"), I agree that all claims and disputes that I may have arising from or relating to my employment with the Company or my separation from the Company shall be decided by arbitration in accordance with applicable arbitration rules, unless I and the Company mutually agree otherwise in writing.

This Agreement covers all claims and disputes I may have with the Company, including but not limited to all claims arising in tort or contract, and all claims arising from or relating to federal, state, or local statutes or ordinances, including but not limited to: Title VII of the Civil Rights Act, the Age Discrimination in Employment Act, the Americans with Disabilities Act, the Family and Medical Leave Act, and any applicable wage and hour laws. This Agreement also covers any claims I may bring against agents of the Company.

I agree that any claim or dispute shall be conducted only on an individual basis and not in a class, collective, or representative action or as a named or unnamed member in any such proceeding, unless both the Company and I specifically agree otherwise in a writing signed by both parties.

To the extent that arbitration of any specific claim is prohibited by law, all other claims shall nevertheless be submitted to arbitration to the fullest extent permitted by law.

Notice of a demand for arbitration shall be provided in writing and filed in accordance with applicable rules within the time limits established by the statute(s) or law(s) governing the claim. The place of arbitration shall be in the state or region where I primarily worked for the Company.

Unless the Company and I mutually agree otherwise in writing, the cost of the arbitration hearing shall be shared equally to the extent permitted by law. Each party shall be responsible for its own attorney's fees, costs, and expenses, unless otherwise required by applicable statute.

The decision of the arbitrator shall be final and binding, and judgment may be entered upon it in any court with proper jurisdiction. This Agreement to arbitrate shall be specifically enforceable under applicable state and federal law.

I understand that this Arbitration Agreement does not change my status as an at-will employee. My employment may be terminated by me or by the Company at any time, for any reason, with or without notice, unless prohibited by law. I further acknowledge that no supervisor, manager, or representative of the Company, other than the Chief Executive Officer, has the authority to enter into an agreement for employment for a specified period of time, and then only if such agreement is in writing and signed by both myself and the CEO.

Employee's Signature

Date

Print Full Name

Store # / Location